TERMINAL REPORTS FREIGHT MOVING ON ALL LINES

Thirty Additional Engines and Crews at Work, Says Henry Miller — Strike Has Been On 19 Days.

MEN BORROWED FROM OTHER ROADS

Eubank to Make Proposal Tomorrow That Will "Either End Strike or Bring Finish Fight."

President Henry Miller of the Terminal Railroad Association, announced this afternoon, on the nineteenth day of the insurgent switchmen's strike, that 30 additional freight engines and their complements of switchmen had been put to work during the morning by the Terminal and that as a result freight is being interchanged between all lines serving this gateway.

Passenger traffic handled by the Terminal is normal in every respect, trains being handled without hindrance or delay, Miller said.

Miller stated that his announcement was based on reports he had received from the yards in this city, East St. Louis, Madison, Venice and Granite City. He said the Terminal forces are being increased hourly and that a substantial improvement will be seen in the freight situation throughout.

50 Workers "Sign Up."

About 50 men "signed up" this morning, in the office of the general manager of the Terminal Association, at Union Station, to go to work at different points in the Terminal yards, in St. Louis and on the East Side, to replace insurgent striking switchmen, and to make possible the movement of freight.

Manager Burlingame said the men were borrowed from different railroads and come from different points on the lines. He said they were men with switching experience, but that some of them were regularly employd as trainmasters or yardmasters. He said about 100 such men would be sent out during the day.

President Eubank of the St. Louis Yardmen's Association, which is conducting the strike of insurgent switchmen, said this afternon that he would present to a mass meeting of the strikers, at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in New Club Hall, Thirteenth street and Chouteau avenue, a proposal which would involve either and immediate return to work, or a decision to fight the strike to a finish. He would not say whether the proposal originated with himself or came from some outside source.

President Eubank and Vice President Crowell of the Yardmen's Association this afternoon held a conference with W. Palmer Clarkson, president of the St. Louis Manufacturers' Association, and Edward J. Troy, secretary, in the offices of the Manufacturers' Association in the Boatmen's Bank Building.

Statement by Clarkson.

A statement afterward given out by Clarkson, with the approval of Eubank and Crowell, described this meeting as follows:

"A cordial discussion took place, the net result of which was that President Clarkson stated that between two or more quarreling labor unions, the path of the manufacturer or shipper who interfered was the fate of the usual peacemaker, and submitted the following as his views, urging on President Eubank, as the one course open, that the men go back to work and iron out all differences subsequently:

"'The striking yardmen were members of organizations that had applications for increased wages pending in Washington.

"'In leaving the service before their request could be considered and decided, they violated their contractual relations of many years with the railroads. They breached the new transportation law and broke an agreement made with the President of the United States personally, which provided for the creation of a board to consider and decide their applications.

"'These men left the service through a disagreement in their own organizations and these organizations are doing all in their power to protect their contracts.'"

Conference With C. of C. Planned.

A conference with officials of the Chamber of Commerce is also planned by officials of the strikers' organization. The decision to appeal to the business organizations was reached after it was reported that the organizations had been in daily communication with Government officials at Washington about the strike and resultant delays to shipping.

The Executive Committee of the Yardmen's Association voted down a plan, offered by Eubank, to make a

ALLIES TO TELL GERMANY UNITY FOR TREATY IS AS COMPLETE AS FOR WAR

Franco-British Declaration Adopted at San Remo; Direct Exchange Preferred to Notes; Britain Palestine Mandatory.

By the Associated Press.

SAN REMO, April 26.—The Supreme Council today adopted the Franco-British declaration with regard to Germany, after inserting a clause declaring its readiness to take all measures, even the occupation of additional German territory, if necessary, to assure the carrying out of the treaty of Versailles.

The adoption of this clause gave rise to some discussion. Premier Nitti of Italy opposed military measures. Premiers Millerand and Lloyd George, however, showed the Italian Prime Minister the necessity of considering such an eventuality, and Foreign Minister Hymans of Belgium and Baron Matsui, Japanese Ambassador to France, joined them in this view.

Joint Declaration.

The joint declaration will begin by setting forth that an increase of the German army cannot even be considered so long as the treaty is not being complied with. It will recall that the Germans have made no proposition as to reparations but will declare that the allies will not insist upon too technical an interpretation of the treaty.

The declaraton will assert the determination of the allies not to annex German territory. It will declare the view of the allies that a direct exchange of views would be preferable to an exchange of notes. The declaration will end by asserting that the unity of the allies for the execution of the treaty is as complete as their unity for the war, and that Germany can get her old position in the world only by keeping her agreements.

The text of the declaration, which is particularly pleasing to the French, will be published this evening. It was announced that representatives of the allies will meet the German Chancellor at Spa, Belgium, on May 25. The Premiers are working with the intention of finishing their remaining labors before night.

Official Communique.

After this morning's session of the Council the following communique was issued:

"The Supreme Council met this morning at 11 o'clock at the villa Devachan. Those present were Mmn. Nitti, Scialoia, Lloyd George, Lord Curzon, M. Millerand, Gen. Berthelot, Ambassador Johnson, Baron Matsui and Mm. Hymans and Jasper.

"The Council, in the presence of military, naval and aerial experts, approved the aerial clauses of the Turkish treaty. Afterward a resolution was approved relieving Turkey of certain financial responsibilities, and problems were entrusted to commissions of control. The Council also discussed the execution of the treaty of Versailles on the part of Germany."

The Council of Premiers, at the request of Premiem Nitti and Foreign Minister Trumbitch of Jugo-Slavia, will allow the Adriatic question to remain in negotiation between the Italian and Jugo-Slav Governments, it is learned today.

Palestine and Syria.

The Council has awarded a mandate for Mesopotamia and Palestine to Great Britain and a mandate for Syria to France.

In placing Palestine under a British mandate the council established within the ancient limits of Holy Land what is called "the national home for the Jews."

The terms of the mandate protect the national rights of Jewish citizens of other countries. That is to say, a Jew of American, British, French or other nationality may retain his nationality, although he is also a citizen of the state of Palestine. The rights of Arabs also are protected, there being 600,000 in Palestine and 100,000 Jews. The mandate is limited generally by what is known as the Balfour declaration. British forces have been in occupation of Palestine since the defeat of the Turkish forces by the British Field Marshal, Viscount Allenby.

France has been the protector of the Christians in Syria since the middle ages, having been designated for the purpose by the Holy See. The question with regard to Syria has been in serious controversy between the French and British Governments since the armistice was signed, particularly over the point whether France should have all of what is geographically outlined as Syria, or only certain parts.

The boundaries of Syria and Mesopotamia will be determined by negotiation later between France and Great Britain. The Mesopotamia mandate is given subject to friendly arrangement with the Italian Government over economic rights.

Question of Armenia.

The Supreme Council is sending a formal request to President Wilson that the United States Government take the mandate for Armenia.

There seems to be division on the part of the council as to whether the region of Erzerum and its vicinity should be included in the territory of the Armenian Republic. The Turkish Nationalists are strongly claiming Erzerum for themselves.

The council has decided to ask President Wilson to arbitrate the boundaries of the new republic of Armenia. The belief is held that the smaller the country the more easy it could protect itself.

Reports that the Adriatic question, including the disposition of Fiume, would be settled by the San Remo council in accordance with President Wilson's program, appeared from San Remo advices last night to be at least premature. It was stated that the settlement proposed by Premier Nitti, although following generally the lines of President Wilson's note of Dec. 9, varied from it by including a constitution for the buffer state of Fiume, to which both the French and British Premiers objected, considering that it limited too largely the character of the new state. Premier Nitti, it was said, was informed by both the French and British delegations that Italy should either accept President Wilson's plan or abide by the pact of London, which gave Fiume to the Jugo-Slavs.

German Troops Are Out of the Ruhr District.

PARIS, April 26.—Dr. Goeppert, head of the German delegation in Paris, today handed the Foreign Office a note addressed to Premier Millerand, stating that the additional troops which had entered the Ruhr district had all evacuated that district on April 21.

JEWS IN PALESTINE TO GET CIVIL RULE

British Delegates at St. Remo Promise That Military Administration Will Be Abolished.

By the Associated Press.

SAN REMO, April 26.—Assurances have been given Zionist representatives by British delegates here that the military administration of Palestine, which has been unsatisfactory to Jews, will be changed to a sympathetic civil rule. Zionists are represented in San Remo by Benjamin Cohen of Chicago, Ill., who came from Palestine with Dr. Chayim Weizmann, president of the World Zionist commission there.

"Zionism, as a political movement, has ended," said Cohen today. "With the creation of a national Jewish home its work now is the development of a Palestine and the bringing there of Jewish immigrants from Eastern Europe. This development will be largely agricultural.

"Palestine now has a population of 700,000. In the time of David it had 2,000,000. It can really support two or three times 700,000, and possibly four or five times that number, through the introduction of the best methods of agriculture. Jews in Russia, Poland and Rumania would be glad to emigrate.

"The plans of the Zionists are that we shall work with the hands rather than with the brain, as the Jews have been doing for the most part in other portions of the world. It will be an interesting social experiment. It will not be Socialistic, but I think it may be called Social.

"America, I think," added Cohen, "will have to supply most of the money until the new State gets going. While some of the expenditures will be productive others will be unproductive."

SKELETON OF WOMAN MISSING 20 YEARS FOUND IN ATTIC

Relatives in Indianapolis Identify Dress When Discovery Is Made in Altering Hospital.

By the Associated Press.

INDIANAPOLIS, April 26.—A skeleton of a woman found today in the attic of what formerly was a hospital, is believed to be that of Carrie T. Selvage, who disappeared 20 years ago.

The building is being converted into a garage. The skeleton, which was clothed in an old blue dress, was found in a sitting posture by workmen who were preparing to place a steel beam in the building.

The dress and a pair of cloth slippers were identified by relatives of the missing woman as similar to those which she wore. The Coroner found no evidence of violence on the skeleton.

Miss Selvage had suffered a nervous breakdown and was a patient at the hospital when she disappeared.

NO DECISION ON PROHIBITION

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Supreme Court failed again today to hand down a decision on the constitutionality of the prohibition amendment and the enforcement act.

SIMMONS WILL FILED; ESTATE DIVIDED IN 1913

Instrument Ratifies Deed of Dec. 3, 1913, Which Disposed of Property, Making Sons Trustees.

NO MENTION OF VALUE OF ESTATE

He Started Career at $12.50 a Month and Built Up Hardware Business Said to Be Worth $14,000,000.

The will of Edward C. Simmons, founder of the Simmons Hardware Co., was filed in the Probate Court today. It contained no provisions as to the disposition of his estate, and no indication of the size of the estate, but simply stated that Simmons had disposed of all his property by a deed executed Dec. 3, 1913. The date of the will was six days later.

The will, after providing that any debts should be paid, referred to the deed of settlement, in which, the testator said, "I have disposed of all my property. That deed I hereby intend to ratify and confirm. It is subject to modification or revision as I may deem best. My sons, Wallace D., Edward H. and George W. Simmons, are the trustees in that deed, and I have provided in it for my beloved wife, Garrie W. Simmons, and for my three sons and their descendants." The sons are named as executors of the will, without bond.

John F. Lee, attorney, who filed the will, was asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter whether the deed would be recorded. He said such a deed would not need to be recorded, unless it should be desired to dispose of real estate conveyed by it. He did not indicate whether any real estate was involved in the Simmons deed. George W. Simmons, one of the sons, said the family had no statement to make about the deed.

The disposition of the estate through a deed will obviate the ordinary process of administration.

Simmons, who was 80 years old, died a week ago yesterday. He began his business career as a clerk in a retail hardware store here, at $12.50 a month, and built up a jobbing and manufacturing business with headquarters in St. Louis and branches in seven other cities, with 4400 employes and with an estimated value of $14,000,000. He retired from the presidency of the company 23 years ago, being succeeded by Wallace D. Simmons, and became chairman of the board of directors.

The Rev. Edmund Duckworth, rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, at yesterday's service, paid a tribute to Simmons, who built the church, then known as St. James' Memorial Church, at Goode and Cote Brilliante avenues, as a memorial to his deceased daughter. Later, when St. James' and the Redeemer parishes were joined, the church was moved, stone by stone, to its present location at Washington boulevard and Euclid avenue.

SUGAR UP ANOTHER CENT A POUND AT WHOLESALE

American Sugar Refining Co. Announce Price of 18½ Cents; Range Up to 23½ Cents.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The American Sugar Refining Co. announced today it had advanced the price for bulk granulated sugar from 17½ cents a pound to 18½ cents, wholesale. Prices for sugar now vary from 17½ to 23½ cents a pound among the leading refiners, based on various quotations for raw sugar and inability to get sizeable amounts in any quarter.

Since last December Cuban raw sugar has advanced from 10 cents, cost and freight, to 18½ cents. Although the rise has been checked from time to time by forecasts of the arrival of some 200,000 tons of sugar from the Far East, attracted to this market by the high quotations here, this importation has not reached here.

KILLS MAYOR, WOUNDS SHERIFFS

Man Also Kills Self When Officials Try to Arrest Him.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., April 26.—Mayor J. B. Hendrix of McKaysville, Ga., and an unidentified man are dead, while Deputy Sheriff James Harper was shot through the hand and Special Deputy Sheriff Weever shot through the abdomen as a result of trouble near McKaysville late Sunday afternoon, according to a telepone message today from Copper Hill, Tenn.

The stranger shot Mayor Hendrix and the two officers when they attempted to arrest him on a charge of drunkenness. He then shot himself.

FORMER ASSISTANT WAR SECRETARY OPPOSES BONUS

Henry Breckenridge, a Lieutenant-Colonel in France, Says Men Can Care for Themselves.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Henry Breckenridge, Assistant Secretary of War during the incumbency of Secretary Garrison and who served in France as a Lieutenant-Colonel of infantry, made public last night a letter to chairman of House and Senate committees dealing with soldier bonus legislation, emphatically opposing any such proposal.

The bonus proposal is wrong in principle and unsound economically, he said. Adding that a bonus would work "injury not a benefit both to the people it is supposed to benefit and to the country."

"It is wrong," the letter said, "because it will take money from the wounded and from the widows and orphans of the dead soldier to fatten the pockets of the living and uninjured. It is wrong because it would attempt to set a money price on what is beyond purchase and beyond price—the duty of a citizen to give his life for his country.

"What are the facts? The men who fought the war must pay for the war. They are the whole-bodied of this generation. Ninety per cent of them are back at work now earning a good living by honest toil and able to care for themselves just as they were able to save the nation when the nation was in need."

POPULATION OF SACRAMENTO 65,857, GAIN OF 47.3 PER CENT

East Youngstown, O., Increases 126 Per Cent. and Niles, O., 56.4 Per Cent.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Census statistics announced today include:

Sacramento, Cal., 65,857, increase of 21,161, or 47.3 per cent.

Shawnee, Okla., 15,348, increase of 2874, or 23.0 per cent.

Hibbing, Minn., 15,089, increase of 6257, or 70.8 per cent.

Virginia, Minn., 14,022, increase of 3549, or 33.9 per cent.

Niles, Ohio, 13,080, increase of 4719, or 56.4 per cent.

East Youngstown, Ohio, 11,237, increase of 6265, or 126. per cent.

SENATE DEFEATS INCREASE IN RIVERS AND HARBORS FUND

Vote Is 26 to 28 Against Making an Appropriation of $27,000,000.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—An attempt by Senator Harrison, Democrat, Mississippi, to increase the annual appropriation for rivers and harbors to $27,000,000 was defeated in the Senate today, 26 to 28.

A second effort by Senator Harrison to increase the bills' total was successful, the Senate adopting, 34 to 22, an amendment to make the appropriation $24,000,000.

HEN'S EGG WEIGHS 5½ OUNCES

Complete Egg of Normal Size Found Within Outer Shell.

A hen belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Busch, 4343 Hartford street, has laid an egg weighing five and one-half ounces. A complete egg of normal shape and size is contained within the outer shell, being revealed when the yolk and white were removed. The hen is of the Light Brahma breed.

Mrs. Busch said today that neighbors had been much interested to know what sort of a diet produced such a giant egg, but that only ordinary chicken feed had been used. The hen is now laying average-sized eggs, one every other day. The weight of an average egg varies from one to two ounces.

ILLINOIS JAIL TO BE A HOTEL

By the Associated Press.

OTTAWA, Ill., April 26.—Sheriff C. S. Ayres announced today that the Ottawa jail will be turned into a hotel because prohibition has emptied it of prisoners.

SLAIN THIEF'S CARD INDEX CLEARS UP 700 ROBBERIES

Loot Taken by Harry James, Shot in Fight With Chicago Police, Believed to Total $500,000.

150 RUGS VALUED AT $40,000 FOUND

Ledgers Contain Lists of Homes Robbed, Articles Stolen, Prospects in View and Pawnbroker Buyers.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Seven hundred robberies, whose loot is believed to total more than $500,000, were cleared today when police examined the effects of Harry J. James, "silk mask burglar," who was killed last night after shooting up the town hall police station, wounding two patrolmen.

In James' private warehouse, where truck loads of rare art works, Oriental rugs, jewels, typewriters, adding machines and dozens of other articles were found, police uncovered a card index in which the 700 robberies were listed, with the loot obtained.

Another section of the card file listed "prospects" and the wealth of data about each indicated that James had used an electric light inspector's card, found in his pocket, to gain entry to the houses.

A third file listed Lake Shore Drive automobiles, with descriptions, license number, owner's name, and "fair," "good" or "swell" to indicate the valuation.

Police also found ledgers listing loot sold, with the price obtained, and a list of pawnbrokers, with the type of goods each preferred to buy.

In a secret chamber in the basement of the warehouse were 150 Oriental rugs appraised by an expert at $40,000.

When James was killed he was wearing a suit belonging to William Lorimer, former United States Senator. The suit was one of 40 stolen from a tailor shop.

James was arrested last night as a detective saw him emerge from an opening between two buildings. As the officer attempted to search James at a police station he drew a heavy automatic pistol and began shooting. Two policemen in the station were wounded. He made his way from the station and a dozen policemen joined the fight before James fell with a bullet through his head.

James' real name was James J. Harrigan, according to identification made by the police today, by papers found in a pocket. Harrigan came originally from Philadelphia. Officials of Mooney and Boland, a private detective agency, said that he was employed by them two years ago as a strike breaker in the Chicago Mill & Lumber Co. strike. According to the same firm Harrigan was employed by the city as a special detective for four or five years.

MAN WOUNDS WIFE, KILLS SELF IN DISCUSSION OF LIVING COST

Louisville (Ky.) Dentist Said to Have Become Enraged When Wife Asked for Bigger Allowance.

By the Associated Press.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26.—In a discussion of the high cost of living, Charles E. Nary, 54 years old, a dentist, seized a paring knife at his home here today, cut the throat of his wife, Grace, 40, inflicted superficial wounds on his sister-in-law, Mrs. M. H. Fention, Carlinville, Ill., and cut his own throat. Nary died within a few minutes. His widow, physicians say, cannot survive.

Police reports were that Nary flew into a rage when his wife pleaded for an increased household allowance.

Dr. Nary came to Louisville 25 years ago. He divorced his first wife, who with a daughter by this marriage, is said to live in Kansas. Eighteen years ago he married Grace Fenton at Streator, Ill., where both were reared.

LEPERS PLAN MARCH ON CAPITAL

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Lepers colonized in Louisiana are threatening to make a parade in Washington to force Congress to provide aid for them. The threat has reached the ears of the United States Public Health Service and efforts have been made to prevent any such movement.

Recently Centlivre, a leper, arrived from Louisiana, having escaped from the State Leprosarium. He received a letter from John Early, a famous leper, suggesting that he might also come to Washington and bring others with him. Centlivre has informed Representative O'Connor of Louisiana that there is an organized leper fraternity, and that there are many lepers in the United States who are known to one another.

GOVERNMENT WINS READING RAILROAD ANTI-TRUST CASES

Supreme Court Orders Dissolution of Reading Coal Combine as Violation of Commodities Clause.

ROADS MUST DISPOSE OF COAL HOLDINGS

Vote Is 4 to 3 Against Affiliated Companies With Chief Justice White Giving Dissenting Opinion.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Federal Government today won its anti-trust suit against the Reading company and affiliated coal companies in one of the so-called anthracite coal cases.

By a vote of four to three, the Supreme Court sustained the Government's charges that the companies violated the "commodities clause" of the interstate commerce act and ordered the dissolution of the companies.

The Reading and Central of New Jersey railroads, the Court decided, must dispose of stock ownership, respectively, of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre Coal Co.

Justice Clarke rendered the decision for the majority, while Chief Justice White, in a minority opinion in which Associate Justices Holmes and Van Devanter joined, said the minority was in favor of accepting the opinion of the lower court.

Associate Justices McReynolds and Brandeis did not participate in the decision. Justice McReynolds was Attorney-General during the time the Government prosecuted the suit, which was instituted in 1913.

Another of the so-called anthracite coal cases, that against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co., and affiliated rail, coal production and sales companies, is pending and when Justice Clarke read his decision in the Reading case today it was assumed at first that this case also had been decided. Examination of the written opinion, however, disclosed that confusion had been brought about by reference in the opinion to the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., one of the companies attacked in the Reading case.

Opinion by Justice Clark.

Justice Clarke in concluding his opinion, said:

"It results that the decree of the District Court will be affirmed as to the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., the Lehigh and New England Railroad Co., the Lehigh and Hudson River Railway Co. as to the restrictive covenants in the mining leases with respect to the shipping of coal, as to the dissolution of the combination between the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., maintained through the Reading Co. and the Central Railroad of New Jersey.

"As to the Wilmington and Northern Railroad Co. and as to the individual defendants, the bill will be dismissed without prejudice. As to the Reading Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co. and the Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey, the decree of the District Court will be reversed and the cause remanded with directions to enter a decree in conformity with this opinion. Dissolving the combination of the Reading Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., the Central Railroad of New Jersey, and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., existing and maintained through the Reading Company, with such provision for the disposition of the shares of stock and bonds, and other property of the various companies, held by the Reading Company, as may be necessary to establish the entire independence from that company and from each, of the Philadelphia and Reading Railway Co., the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron Co., the Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey, and the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., and also that such disposition shall be made by the decree of the stocks and bonds of the Lehigh and Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., held by the Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey, as may be necessary to establish entire independence between these two companies to the end that the affairs of all of these now combined

Amundsen Expected to Abandon His Effort to Reach North Pole

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.

RADIO messages received today by the Navy Department from its station at Cordova, Alaska, indicate that Roald Amundsen, the Arctic explorer, intends to abandon his effort to reach the North Pole.

The message said it was understood that Amundsen, who arrived last week at Anadyir, Siberia, intended to take the steamer Victoria, at Nome for Seattle. It was stated that the time for his departure would depend on the time of his getting clear of ice in Siberia.

1000 CARMEN VOTE TO ARBITRATE DEMANDS

Night Crews Willing to Observe Agreement—Day Workers Meet Tonight.

About 1000 United Railways motormen and conductors who work at night met at Central Trades and Labor Union hall this morning and voted unanimously to submit to arbitration their demand for increased wages and an eight-hour day.

The action was taken on the recommendation of the Executive Committee, which met Saturday night and considered the reply of Receiver Wells refusing the men's demands. International Vice President O'Shea submitted the recommendation and congratulated the men on their action after they had voted to arbitrate.

The day men will meet at 8 o'clock tonight to take action on the Executive Committee's recommendation.

The men now receive 50 cents an hour the first year, 55 cents the second and 60 cents thereafter. The demand is for 75 cents an hour the first six months, 80 cents the second six months and 85 cents thereafter.

The arbitration plan, which is contained in the carmen's union agreement with the company, provides for the company to appoint one member, the men another and these two to select the third. Arbitrators are to be named within five days after request is made. If the arbitrators fail to agree, matters in dispute are to be submitted to the Public Service Commission.

Mayor Kiel addressed the men on the bond issue, reminding them of the advantage to them of the proposed elimination of grade crossings and the improvement of streets.

SUPREME COURT RULES IN FAVOR OF INDIANS ON TAXES

Overrules Oklahoma Supreme Court in Denying Judgments for Recovery on Tax-Free Land.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The Supreme Court today set aside Oklahoma Supreme Court decrees denying judgments to 67 Choctaw and Chickasaw Indian citizens in that State who sought a refund of $10,000 collected by Love County officials as taxes on land alloted them under a treaty. They claimed the lands were tax exempt under the treaty.

The court also set aside Oklahoma Supreme Court decisions dismissing a suit brought against Carter County officials for reimbursement of taxes paid by 670 Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians on land granted them by the Government. The payments were made while proceedings were pending to determine when such lands were taxable under a treaty made in 1898. The lower court held the payments were voluntary.

RAILROAD MUST PAY FOR BLACK TOM BLAST DAMAGE

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Judgments against the Lehigh Valley Railroad Co. for approximately $750,000, resulting from the Black Tom explosion of war muntions in New York Bay in 1916, will stand by refusal today of the Supreme Court to review appeals brought in 13 proceedings.

Sixteen hundred claims for $11,622,000 have been instituted and 1500 of the claims calling for $7,000,000 are pending in New Jersey and New York courts.

CHICAGO STRIKERS SAY COMPROMISE WILL BE FORCED

Railroads State 1892 Men Are at Work; Insurgents Assert This Is Only Fifth of Normal Force.

FEAR OF "BLACKLIST" SENDING MEN TO WORK

Railway Labor Board Reiterates Policy No Hearing Will Be Granted to Men While on Strike.

By the Associated Press.

CHICAGO, April 26.—Developments in the strike of insurgent railroad workers in the Chicago district today have been confined to issuance of statements by the railroad managers and strikers. The managers asserted that 1892 men were at work yesterday and that freight traffic was 90 per cent normal. The strikers assert that the number of men the railroads say were at work was less than one-fifth of the normal number, that the industrial situation rapidly is growing worse, with a number of plants facing shutdowns because of lack of coal, and that, because the railroads cannot continue using high-priced men as substitute switchmen, a compromise will be forced sooner or later.

Elsewhere in the central and far West a gradual return to normal freight movement is reported.

Nine Locals in New York District Lose Charters.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Fear of a "blacklist" which would bar them permanently from employment appeared to be one of the driving forces today behind the steady break of the railroad workers' strike reported by railroad officials.

Although no hint of such a plan has come from the managers, possibility of its adoption was discussed freely by some strikers after they learned at a mass meeting last night that nine locals of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in the New York-New Jersey district had lost their union charters by action of brotherhood officials.

Officials of the lines continue today their optimistic statements that traffic is fast returning to normal.

More than 2000 local railroad workers were expelled yesterday from the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen for their part in the unauthorized strikes in this district, according to Edward McHugh, chairman of the strikers' executive committee.

Board Refuses to Hear Demands of Kansas City Yardmen.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The railroad Labor Board today refused to hear the wage demands of the Kansas City Yardmen's Association on the ground that the application did not conform to the law. Hearings on demands of strikers in Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York, previously had been refused by the board.

Replying to telegrams from numerous Chambers of Commerce asking a speedy settlement of the railway wage dispute, the board announced that it was proceeding with all diligence to make any early settlement.

The board continued its hearings on the wage demands of the brotherhoods. Timothy Shea, vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, told the board that additional pay for railroad workers would not increase the cost of living unless the excuse was seized by profiteers.

Labor is only a small item in the cost of production, he said. He said that the labor bill on shoes, which now sell for $17 or $18 a pair, is only 88 cents.

Railroad officials will attempt to show that increasing wages will cost many millions of dollars, he said, but that claim will be disapproved by labor spokesmen.

Members of the Board reiterated last night that policy of the board that no hearing or consideration would be granted to striking railway employes while they remained on strike. The situation in the Pittsburg region prompted the statement, it was explained, it having been stated to the board that certain leaders in the unauthorized strike movement there were urging their men to hold out, as the board would hear their complaints today.

Such reports were without foundation, board members said, as there had been no change in Rule 1 adopted by the board which outlined the policy that complaints would be received only through regular channels.

Traffic in Pittsburg District Declared Practically Normal.

PITTSBURG, Pa., April 26.—Railroad traffic, including passenger and freight service, in the Pittsburg district, is practically normal, according to official reports issued here by the leading roads. Numerous volunteer workers continued to fill positions of employes who are on strike, the companies say.

Only a few strikers have returned to their posts at the Conway yards, Pennsylvania officials say. The yards are being handled by volunteer crews. At all other points in the district the Pennsylvania reports that employes are going back to work daily.

Detailed Information of Proposed $24,000,000 Municipal Bond Issue

Outline of 18 Items to Be Voted on at Special Election May 11, and Improvements They Would Work.

THE Post-Dispatch herewith presents, for the information of readers, details of the proposed $24,000,000 municipal bond issue, to be voted upon at the special election of May 11.

Eighteen items compose the bond issue. Each is to be voted upon separately, and each must receive two-thirds of all the votes cast upon it, in order to carry. Several of the items are inter-related. All have been determined upon by a committee of 33 business and professional men, representing various organizations, as necessary parts of a general plan of city improvement and development.

The passage of the bond issue will not mean that the bonds will all be issued at once, or that all the improvements will be undertaken while the present high prices prevail. The bonds will be issued through a term of years, and it will be the duty of those in charge of the expenditure to choose the most favorable time, with due view to the urgency of the need for the different improvements.

Supervision of Expenditures.

A supervisory committee, representing business and civic organizations, and named by these organizations, is to oversee the expenditure of the money raised by the sale of bonds for the different purposes.

The increase in taxes, for payment of interest on the bond issue, will not be noticeable for the first few years, the city's fiscal officials say, and will not at any time be more than 15 cents on the $100 assessed valuation. On the other hand, city officials say, if the bond issue fails, the tax rate will have to be increased materially next year, and each year thereafter, to provide funds for absolutely necessary work which, in the absence of a bond issue, must be paid for with current revenue.

The 18 items of the bond issue, in the order in which they will appear on the official ballot, are as follows:

1. Grade Crossing Elimination, $905,000. There are 59 grade crossings in St. Louis, west of Broadway, and 11 points where street car lines cross railroad tracks at grade. The city pays one-third of the cost of the expense of abolishing surface crossings, and the railroads two-thirds, so that the item will mean work amounting to about $2,700,000. The most immediate requirements are the rebuilding of the Fourteenth street viaduct, which recently collapsed and is now closed; grade separation of the Wabash and Rock Island railroads in the Forest Park district, doing away with the Delmar boulevard, Union boulevard, Skinker road and De Baliviere avenue grade crossings; construction of a viaduct at Bircher street, completing King's highway; a viaduct at King's highway and the Terminal tracks, and raising of the Missouri Pacific tracks at Southeast avenue and the Ellendale-Lindenwood highway, this being a part of the River des Peres development plan.

2. Purchase of Parks and Playgrounds, $1,385,500. St. Louis has 26 public playgrounds, as compared with 64 in Detroit and 72 in Boston. The large parks are not accessible to the most densely populated sections. Several neighborhood parks of 25 to 50 acres are needed, in the district between Cass and Russell avenues. This item includes $140,000 for ground and equipment for a negro community center, and $150,000 for new bath houses and pools.

3. Improvement of Parks, $1,174,500. This item includes 13 projects for work of a permanent character in the existing parks, to make them more serviceable to the public. New buildings and completion of present buildings and equipment, in all parks and playgrounds, are included in the plan, as are wading pools, sidewalks, bandstands, comfort stations, locker buildings and an athletic stadium, probably in Carondelet Park.

4. Municipal Auditorium, $900,000. A convention hall and civic center. Needed for accommodation of many gatherings for which, at present, there are not suitable meeting places. Because of its situation, and through efficient organized effort, St. Louis has become a convention city of the first rank, and has had 792 conventions in the last four years, bringing to the city hundreds of thousands of persons, who have spent millions of dollars here. The prospect is for a much larger number of these gatherings in future. There are also many local uses for the proposed building, such as the Veiled Prophet's ball, expositions, automobile and truck shows, grand opera, indoor athletic events, political, patriotic, religious and military gatherings. If the city, as has been proposed, uses land which it now owns as a site, the entire amount will be available for the building. If a site has to be purchased, additional funds will be needed for the building, and business organizations have expressed a willingness to cooperate in raising the money. This item, like items one and 11, probably will be one in which the city will pay only a part of the cost of the proposed improvement.

5. Reconstruction of Sewers, $2,575,000. Reconstruction work is declared to be essential in the case of several large public sewers which are so old and in such bad condition that it is a waste of money to repair them. The works most urgently needed are relief sewers for the main branches of the Mill Creek system, and completion of the main relief sewer of the Rocky Branch Valley by an extension from Glasgow and Sullivan avenues west to Warne avenue. The cost of absolutely essential sewer construction has been figured by the Board of Public Service at more than $3,000,000.

6. River Des Peres, $9,000,000. This is the largest, and is considered the most important, of the items. Its purpose is to abate the nuisance caused by the River Des Peres as an open sewer, to stop the heavy damage inflicted on the western portion of the city by floods; to make possible a belt railway connecting with the municipal lines on the river front, and with the Free Bridge, and to open a new industrial district in the southwestern part of the city, similar to the new northwest district.

These plans fit naturally into each other, and are essentially a unit. The channel through the southwest part of the city, up to Forest Park, would be straightened and cut to a depth of 18 or 20 feet. This excavation, for a distance of 9 miles, would involve the removal of 4,000,000 cubic yards of dirt, which would be the material for the railroad embankment; the railroad, in turn, being essential to the development of the new industrial district. The cost of construction of the railroad, $1,000,000, is included under item 10.

Through most of Forest Park, through the Washington Heights district, and across Delmar boulevard to the city limits of University City, an inclosed sewer for flood water and sewage would be constructed. The objection which has been raised that this work should be paid for by assessing a benefit district, is met with the statement that this would not be feasible under the city charter, and that it would no be equitable. The records of city sewer construction show that the city, by construction of public sewers, has borne 37 to 46 per cent of the cost of the entire sewer system in the past. In the River Des Peres district, the city has thus far borne only 11 per cent of the cost, and the proposed expenditure would bring the city's share for that district up to 39 per cent, which about balances the record for other sections.

7. Municipal Farm for Prisoners, $400,000. A modern reformatory institution, to take the place of the Workhouse. It is planned to make the farm self-supporting.

8. Municipal Farm for Other City Charges, $1,100,000. The details of this item are a sanitarium for curable insane; a home for feebleminded, defective and dependent children; sanitarium for incipient tubercular patients; home for detention of delinquent girls, and home for convalescent patients from the city hospital. From the standpoint of philanthropy, this is the foremost of the bond issue items.

9. Free Bridge Approach, $1,500,000. The Free Bridge, built at a cost of $6,250,000 as an independent entrance to the city from the East, now ends at Eighth and Gratiot streets, and its railroad deck leads only to the Terminal Association tracks in Mill Creek Valley. The new approach would connect the bridge with tracks on the levee now owned by the city, extending north to the Chain of Rocks and south to Arsenal street, and connecting with the North Market street dock and the proposed Victor street dock, and with the proposed Rives des Peres Railroad (see items 6 and 10.)

10. Municipal Docks, $1,700,000. The three parts of this item are: Constructing River des Peres Railroad (see item 6), $1,000,000; docks, $600,000; extending harbor line, $100,000. The proposed docks are to be at Victor street, similar to the present North Market street dock, and with about the same capacity, equipped with modern conveying equipment and warehouse facilities. The extension, or filling in, of the harbor line is intended to add about 23 acres to the city's property on the river front. The value of this land, at the present rate of valuation of land in that region, would be nearly $1,500,000.

11. Street Openings, $1,250,000. Provision has been made by ordinance for the widening of a highway to extend the Twelfth street thoroughfare north and west on Fifteenth and Palm streets and Natural Bridge avenue, through the new industrial district. The widening of Olive street, from Twelfth street to Channing avenue, widening of sections of Vandeventer avenue, Soulard, Chippewa and Morgan streets, and cutoffs of Lawton avenue and West Pine boulevard, Delmar boulevard and Morgan street, at Grand avenue, have also been provided for by ordinance. The city must bear a fixed share of these improvements, which it cannot be expected to meet from current revenue. The carrying out of these plans, therefore, depends on the approval of this item.

12. New Engine Houses, $360,000. For rebuilding of four old fire engine houses, and construction of two new houses, one in the new northwest industrial district and the other at Jefferson and Cass avenues, and for purchase of new motor apparatus.

13. Bellefontaine Farm Improvements, $156,000. Workshops, laundry, storeroom, isolation hospital, chapel and gymnasium, and new cottages are needed at the farm, which has taken the place of the old Industrial School. Will provide vocational training.

14. Jail Cells, $76,000. Two floors of the new City Jail must be completed to provide proper means of separation between first offenders and habitual criminals; a chapel is also needed.

15. Morgue, $68,000. Present morgue is a relic of the departed Four Courts building, and lacks refrigeration, plumbing and heating facilities. Last year 1143 bodies passed through the morgue, and one autopsy a day, on an average, is performed there by physicians. Public portion of new morgue is to have the appearance of a mortuary chapel.

16. Municipal Garage, $90,000. To replace present garage, which is inadequate, and to provide facilities for repair work, now done by outside contractors.

17. Maintenance of Streets, $360,000. The term "maintenance," used in the bond ordinance, is misleading. The money is to be used for reconstruction, on a permanent heavy-wear basis, of streets which have become thoroughfares for a class of traffic which has not enhanced property values.

18. Purchase Street Lighting Equipment, $1,000,000. This comprises: For purchase of lighting equipment in downtown electric district, now privately owned, $400,000; for installing electric lights in place of gasoline lamps in parks, $360,000; to make initial installation of an electric lighting program for the entire city, most of which is now lighted by gas, $240,000.

7 OF FARMER'S FAMILY SLAIN WITH SHOTGUN

Coroner Says Most of Shots Were Fired at Close Range—Weapon Found in Swamp.

By the Associated Press.

TURTLE LAKE, N. D., April 26.—Seven of the eight persons found murdered here Saturday on the Wolf farm were shot with a shotgun, six having been shot from behind, while the eighth died after being struck a blow on the side of the head with a hatchet, it was decided at the Coroner's inquest last night, following an examination of the bodies. Powder marks and the hair and skin indicated most of the shots had been fired at close range.

Several clews have been discovered. The victims were Wolf, his wife, their five daughters, 3 to 13 years old, and Jake Hofer, 13-year-old hired boy.

According to the officials, five of the victims were murdered in the kitchen of the Wolff home, the father probably was slain in the yard, between the barn and the residence, while two of the girls were killed while seeking refuge in the cow barn where their bodies and that of their father were found under a pile of hay.

A double barreled 12-guage shotgun was found in a swamp one mile north of the Wolf farm yesterday. The stock of the gun had been detached from the barrels and was floating on the water. Foot prints in the mud on shore indicated a man had approached and thrown the gun into the water.

Another clew was a pair of blood-soaked overalls found in the kitchen of the Wolf home. A hatchet with which it is believed one of the Wolfs was killed was found in the kitchen.

At the Coroner's inquest John Ehekken, a farmer, testified that he had seen two suspicious looking men walking rapidly away from the farm shortly after noon Thursday.

Wolf was considered well to do and his property is estimated to be worth between $25,000 and $30,000. He had often told friends he kept a large amount of money in a small safe at home. No arrests have been made.

Emma, 8 months old, the only member of the Wolf family to escape death, is being cared for by the neighbors. When found she was lying in her cradle beside an open window.

JOHNSON LEADS BY 5600 IN PRIMARY IN MONTANA

By the Associated Press.

HELENA, Mont., April 26.—With 297 precincts out of a total of 1500 in the State heard from, Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California led Major-General Leonard Wood, his nearest opponent, for the presidential preference vote on the Republican ticket, by 5647 votes. Returns gave the following totals on the Republican presidential preference contest: Johnson, 8206; Wood, 2559; Lowden, 2478; Hoover, 2033; Harding, 198.

BRIDGE OVER RIO GRANDE BURNS

By the Associated Press.

LAREDO, Tex., April 26.—Fire late yesterday destroyed the international foot bridge here connecting the United States and Mexico. All communication, including telephone service, was cut off as a result of the fire. The loss was estimated at $300,000.

Firemen were unable to check the flames before they reached the Laredo side of the river. The bridge was also burned to the Mexicon side.

GOVERNMENT WINS READING RAILROAD ANTI-TRUST CASES

companies may be conducted in harmony with the law."

Chief Justice White's Opinion.

"By the opinion," Chief Justice White said in the dissenting opinion, "now announced this action of the court below, in so far as it directed a dismissal, is reversed and virtually the full relief prayed by the Government is therefore granted. We are unable to concur in this conclusion because in our opinion, neither the conventions as to the Sherman act, nor the reliance upon the commodities clause, except to the extent that in the particulars stated they were sustained by the court below, has any foundation to rest upon. We do not state at any length the reasons which led us to this view because the court below, composed of three Circuit Judges, in a comprehensive and clear opinion, sustained the correctness of the action which it took and also demonstrates the error involved in the decree of this court reversing its action. To that opinion we therefore refer as stating the reasons for our dissent."

In rendering the majority opinion, Justice Clarke entered into a lengthy review of the formation of the Reading Holding Co. and its subsidiaries, which, he said, without outlay, acquired, under a charter issued in 1871, but unused for 20 years, ownership of railway equipment, real estate and other assets valued at $193,613,000.

Coal Property Monopolized.

"Thus," he continued, "this scheme of reorganization, adopted and executed six years after the enactment of the anti-trust act, delivered into the complete control of the board of directors of the holding company all of the property of much the largest single coal company operating in the Schuylkill anthracite coal field and almost 1000 miles of railway over which its coal must find its access to interstate markets. This board of directors, obviously, thus acquired power to increase or decrease the output of coal from extensive mines, the supply of it in the market and the cost of it to the consumer; to increase or lower the charge for transporting such coal to market and to regulate car supply and other shipping conveniences and thereby to help or hinder the operations of independent miners and shippers of coal. This constituted a combination to unduly restrain interstate commerce within the meaning of the act.

"Obviously, also, it made the coal company and the railway company mere agents or instrumentalities of the holding company—the mining and transportation departments of its business—for producing, purchasing and selling coal and for transporting it to market. The Reading Railroad Co. and the Reading Coal Co. each had thereafter but one stockholder—the holding company—and their earnings were to be distributed, not in proportion to the shares of their capital stocks, aggregating $28,000,000, but were to go to the creditors and shareholders of the holding company, with its mortgage debt of $135,000,000 and its capital stock of $140,000,000. The holding company thus served to pool the property, the activities and the profits of the three companies."

Attack Began in 1913.

In the attack upon the so-called Hard Coal Trust, the Government in 1913 sued the Reading company, a Pennsylvania holding corporation, and affiliated railroad and coal companies, asking dissolution of an alleged monopoly in restraint of trade in the anthracite industry, having combined assets of more than $500,000,000.

Two lines of attack were taken by the Government. Under the Sherman Antitrust Law it sought dissolution of various forms of the alleged combination. It charged violation of the Commodities Clause of the Interstate Commerce Act, in the transportation by the Philadelphia & Reading Railroad and the Central Railroad of New Jersey, both owned by the holding corporation, of coal mined by respective subsidiary companies.

In the decision by the District Court in Philadelphia July 3, 1915, from which the present appeal was taken both by the Government and the Reading interests, the Government lost all but one of its principal contentions. Judges McPherson, Buffington and Hunt directed separation of the Central of New Jersey from its subsidiary coal company, the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. Separation of the Central of New Jersey was refused.

Sought General Decree.

Upon appeal, the Government asked for a general form of decree for dissolution of the whole alleged combine, to be presented by the defendants. Dissolution of what the Government termed a secondary combine also asked was for in modification and cancellation of contracts and leases between the Central of New Jersey and the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Co., a separate corporation. The Government did not press charges that the Central New Jersey's lease of the latter road was a restraint of trade.

Separation of the Reading railroad and coal companies, it was declared, would of itself result in compliance with the commodities clause act.

A decree in general terms to include each of the complex alleged combinations was asked by the Government, specially urging that redistribution of stock among present stockholders would not accomplish the dissolutions desired to restore competition in anthracite ownership, production, sales and transportation.

"Largest Anthracite Monoploy."

The Reading Company, through consolidation and reorganization of the Reading railroad and coal interests in 1896 by the creation of the holding company, and its subsequent purchase, in 1901, of a majority of stock of the Central Railroad of New Jersey, which owns the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., and has contracts with the Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co., the Government alleged, was the strongest and largest monopoly in the anthracite industry. It was alleged that the Reading interests controlled 63 per cent of the known supply of anthracite and transported one-third of all tonnage. This the Reading interests denied, asserting but 20 per cent of the coal fields, in Eastern Pennsylvania, were controlled and that profits averaged only 18½ cents a ton.

Beside the Reading holding corporation, the defendants were: The Philadelphia & Reading Railway Co., Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron Co., Central Railroad Co. of New Jersey, Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., Lehigh Coal & Navigation Co., Wilmington & Northern Railroad, Lehigh & Hudson River Railroad, and directors of the holding company, including the late George F. Baer; Henry C. Frick, lately retired from the directorate; George F. Baker, Henry A. Du Pont, Daniel Willard, Henry P. McKean and Samuel Dickson.

The litigation was the culmination of years of action in various state and Federal courts, and Federal and state investigations. In June, 1907, the Government attacked the so-called Anthracite Coal Trust in a suit against the Reading, Lackawanna, Delaware & Hudson and other railroad and coal interests after an investigation by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Large Anthracite Holdings.

In 1896, following receivership of the old Reading Railroad, in reorganization and consolidation of the Reading rail and coal interests, the holding company's capital stock was increased from $50,000 to $275,000,000. The holding company became owner of every share of stock of the new rail and coal companies, it was charged, to circumvent Pennsylvania laws. George F. Baer and J. P. Morgan & Co., had charge of the reorganization. Control of the Central of New Jersey, by purchase in 1901 of 51 per cent of its stock was acquired by the Reading holding corporation. With it came control of nine-tenths of the stock of the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co., owned by the Central of New Jersey, said to be second only in coal wealth and output to the Reading Coal Co.

That the Reading Coal Co. controlled 42½ per cent and the Lehigh & Wilkes-Barre Coal Co. controlled 17.3 per cent of all anthracite supplies was charged by the Government, asserting the coal fields thus combined in control would outlast all competitors. Potential as well as present monopoly was charged, together with excessive transportation rates, unlawful rebates and loans between subsidiary companies.

Purchase by the Reading company of a majority of stock of the Central of New Jersey was declared by the Government to be in restraint of trade, but the lower court held against the Government and declared the Central lines were merely supplementary to the Reading system.

The Reading company also contended that only the Government, not independent producers and competitors, had charged monopoly against the Reading interests. It denied charges of excessive freight or coal rates or any unlawful practices; also it contended that the Reading coal lands were bought before 1871 in a normal extension of trade, with express sanction of the State of Pennsylvania and approved in a Federal judicial sale of the bankrupt Reading railroad to the Reading holding company.

Reading Stock Goes Up 6 Points Following Decision.

NEW YORK, April 26.—Reading rose almost 6 points to 84½ shortly after news was received of the Reading decision of the Supreme Court. Lehigh Valley rose almost 3 points, to 44¾, and the entire railway list became stronger on active buying, which embraced not only the coalers, but cotton carriers and trunk lines. Agricultural rails also shared in the general advance.

STATE CAMPAIGN PLANNED FOR $60,000,000 ROAD BOND ISSUE

Harry B. Hawes Named President of Good Roads Federation.

EXCELSIOR SPRINGS, Mo., April 26.—Definite plans for a statewide campaign in Missouri for the passage of the $60,000,000 road bond amendment, to be voted on at the November elections, were laid Saturday at Excelsior Springs, where 31 delegates called together by Gov. Gardner, formed the Missouri Good Roads Federation and elected Harry B. Hawes of St. Louis president.

Hawes declared that the fight for the passage of the amendment means the most strenuous campaign ever undertaken by the State in the interest of roads, estimated that it would be necessary to raise a fund of $100,000 to conduct the necessary program of education and outlined briefly what would be done to organize every county of the State.

TERMINAL REPORTS FREIGHT MOVING ON ALL LINES

direct appeal to President Wilson. The committee believed the President had indicated that he would refer such an appeal to the Railroad Labor Board, which has refused to hear complaints from men who are on strike.

Eubank and other officers of the Yardmen's Association, with a committee of representatives of the striking employes of each of the railroads, went yesterday morning to the eleventh floor of the Railway Exchange building, where the executive managers of the railroads were holding a meeting. He asked for a general conference with the managers, or, if the managers were willing to confer only with the employes of their own lines, he asked that individual conferences be held or arranged for. The managers refused to hold either a general conference or individual conferences.

The railroad managers issued the following statement about yesterday's attempt of the strikers to obtain a conference:

"During an informal conference of the railway managers Sunday morning, a number of striking railway men appeared, claiming they had been requested to come. They were told that no such request had been made or could be made, as the question of such a conference has never been considered by the railroad managers. No arrangement, direct or indirect, has or can be made for a meeting with a committee of striking yardmen. They will have to see the proper officers of their respective roads with reference to reemployment. The Wage Board at Washington has ruled that the men must comply with the transportation law, and the railways are governed by the ruling."

Statement by Eubank.

Eubank, in a statement as to the strikers' position, said:

"William G. Lee, president of the brotherhood with which a majority of the roads hold contracts, has signified his intention of furnishing men to protect those contracts. His inability to do so has made the contracts void, and we being the logical force needed to operate the roads, are willing to start the wheels of commerce when guaranteed a living wage, and that each man may return without discrimination for having participated in the present leave of absence or vacation."

DEMPSEY MARRIAGE QUESTIONED

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Evidence indicating that the marriages of Maxine Wayne Dempsey to Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion of the world, at Farmington, Utah, in October, 1916, was in violation of the Utah divorce laws and therefore invalid, was made public today by the local bureau of investigation of the Department of Justice.

GOMPERS URGE THAT U. S. GET OF VETO CONGR

Body Has Been Co Failure in Every Big tion That Has Conf Nation, He Declares

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.— ing charges that the presen gress has failed the natio completeness and abando made by Samuel Gompers, p of the American Federation bor, in the current issue American, Federationist.

"America must get rid of Congress and elect an actio gress," he says. "The 'no' C must give place to a 'yes' gress."

The labor leader asserts Congress has failed on the treaty, in reconstruction, a high cost of living, and that has "failed us in intelligent c hension of every great quest fecting the lives and welfare people."

The "sins of the present gress," he added, were of c sion as well as of omission, a had been "almost an eagerne the wrong things," the enactm the railroad bill being cited "shining example."

GOMPERS URGES THAT U. S. GET RID OF VETO CONGRESS

Body Has Been Complete Failure in Every Big Question That Has Confronted Nation, He Declares.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Sweeping charges that the present Congress has failed the nation "with completeness and abandon" are made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, in the current issue of the American Federationist.

"America must get rid of its veto Congress and elect an action Congress," he says. "The 'no' Congress must give place to a 'yes' Congress."

The labor leader asserts that Congress has failed on the peace treaty, in reconstruction, and the high cost of living, and that it also has "failed us in intelligent comprehension of every great question affecting the lives and welfare of our people."

The "sins of the present Congress," he added, were of commission as well as of omission, as there had been "almost an eagerness to do the wrong things," the enactment of the railroad bill being cited as a "shining example."

"There must be a Congress which will turn its face to the task confronting the American citizenship in the true spirit of American institutions," Gompers said.

"A constant genius for accomplishment must replace an ill-considered mania for restriction and coercion.

"America cannot play forever the part of a peevish child in international relations. The affairs of the world are the concern of the United States.

"There may be proper limits to which this concern may go, but there is no longer any such thing as absolute divorcement from what transpires elsewhere.

"Blind and Bigoted Congress."

"The blind and bigoted action of Congress in refusing to deal intelligently with the peace treaty has made it impossible for the United States to manifest the proper concern in their affairs.

"On our own continent there is the same need. For weeks a senatorial sub-committee has been going up and down the country gathering testimony, the evident purpose which can be but to inflame the minds of those who think little and who take much on faith. At periods all too frequent, the United States is brought to the verge of war with Mexico. It is not difficult to see the evidences of satisfaction on the court of predatory interest at each of these periods, nor is it difficult to discern the propaganda which fosters the development of them.

"Falsehood, vilification, studied misrepresentation—these are the weapons constantly in use of those who, to serve their own ends, would precipate war between these two American republics. It is no longer possible to feel with certainty that high government officials have not been made the tools and pawns of those who seek intervention—the last term for which is 'Cubanization.'

"Congress' Record of Failure."

"At home, across our borders and over the seas, Congress has made for itself a record of failure, a record of stubborn opposition to that which is good.

"Democracy must mean equality of opportunity.

"It must be the sovereignty of the masses.

"It must mean absence of union by select ruling class or caste or clique.

"Congress has done much in recent months to indicate hostility to these principles. Powerful forces in the United States are seeking to wound and cripple democracy. They do not want equality of the opportunity. They want an unfair advantage in the industry of the nation, in the legislatures of a nation and in the courts of the nation.

"When the labor movement protests against the pressure of those who would turn backward the tide of progress and deny the sunlight to lives, but just emerging from the dark, it speaks with authority. The labor movement of America does speak and it must be heard.

"Where the effort is made in industry to crowd men and women backward and downward, we will resist and resist and resist, for it is better to resist and lose than never to have resisted. Where the effort is made in the halls of Congress and legislature, we will resist, resist and resist.

"We will resist with all our power the re-election of those who have been false in trust and which many placed in them."

Gompers Assails Labor Parties Springing Up.

By the Associated Press.

CLEVELAND, O., April 26.—Pointing out that all of the Federation's victories have been won without a party and that party rule will spell disaster to future needs, Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, reasserted the Federation's non-partisan political policies, in an address here yesterday.

He assailed independent labor parties that have sprung up and urged the Federation membership to abide by its customary program of disregard of political parties and defeat all candidates who are enemies of American workingmen.

"The American Federation of Labor," said Gompers, "assumes no role of dictatorship. Any selection of men who are to represent you in the Government's next election is left to the judgment of each member and he can vote as he pleases."

Gompers branded the overall program as "ostentatious poverty" and the "eat cheap meat cuts" policy as an insult to American citizens.

Impulsive, unwarranted and untimely strikes were denounced by Gompers, but he added that "no matter what law may be enacted the right to strike will never be driven from the earth." He referred to the present switchmen's strike as "the biggest blunder."

"I am not an advocate of strikes," he continued, "but I uphold them whenever it resolves that a strike is the only means of securing worthy demands. The fact that men must remain at work before they can be heard, get redress or consideration is an infringement on the rights of every citizen and in conflict with the thirteenth amendment."

Gompers protested against the Cummins-Esch bill. "Workmen should be just as free now as they were when the Government took over the railroads. Instead, they are denied the right to cease work, while the railroads are assured a 6 per cent dividend on their watered stock and everything.

"We cannot blame the Railway Labor Board for making its decision to refuse to recognize the demands of the present strikers until they return to work. If I were on that board and had pledged myself to abide by its principles, I should probably have decided likewise, but I would never have accepted a place on a board that is compelled to make such rulings."

GIRL CLERK WHO WAS KILLED BY AN ELEVATOR

WRITING PORTRAIT.

MISS ESTHER JAMES.

GIRL, 17, KILLED IN ELEVATOR ACCIDENT

Esther James, Saleswoman, Crushed to Death at Washington Avenue Flower Store.

Esther James, 17 years old, daughter of Mrs. Annie M. James, a nurse, of 1231 Childress avenue, was killed in an elevator accident at 8:30 a. m. yesterday at the store of Grimm & Gorly, florists, 712 Washington avenue, where she was a flower salesgirl.

Miss James had gone to the basement in an electric elevator, operating it herself. After she had stepped from the elevator car it started upward again.

According to Frank Robertson and Frank Cole, employes who were in the basement, she attempted to stop the elevator by reaching into it and throwing over the controlling lever, but it continued the ascent and it carried her up until it pinioned her between the floor of the car and the basement ceiling.

Unable to extricate her, Robertson and Cole turned in a fire alarm. Firemen took her from the elevator and found she was dead. She had been pinioned at the waist and her spine was broken.

A Coroner's verdict of accident was returned today. Edward H. Harvey, an employe at the store, testified that no one ordered Miss James to use the elevator and so far as he knew it was the first time she ever used it.

Miss James was a pupil at Central High School until influenza caused the school to be temporarily closed last January. She obtained employment at the flower store and did not return to school. She had been working on Sunday morning every other week.

The funeral will be at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow, with services at the Memorial Congregational Church, and interment in Bellefontaine Cemetery.

Expert Press Machinist Dies.

Oscar H. Ziegler, 43 years old, manager of the Robert Ziegler & Son machine shop, 210 Vine street, died of tuberculosis at 9:30 p. m. Sunday at his home, 419 Iron street. The Ziegler Company specializes in installing and repairing printing presses. Oscar Ziegler became an expert in his line, learning the trade in the New York factory of the Robert Hoe Co. He is survived by his widow and a son and daughter.

WOMAN DRAGGED FROM TAXI AND BEATEN BY MEN

Four Men and Woman in Auto Seize Service Car Passenger, Take Her to Park, Rob and Beat Her.

Bernice Roberts, 26 years old, of 620A North Garrison avenue, declared to policemen that she was dragged from a service car on Olive street, near Newstead avenue, at 2:45 a. m. today, and was driven about in another automobile with four men and a woman, who, she said, beat and slapped her. She said she lost $20 and a wrist watch. The story of her removal from the service car is supported by the driver, Albert W. Frank, 4338 Easton avenue.

Four men in a car, similar to the one described by Frank and the young woman, were arrested at 4:30 a. m. at Olive and Sarah streets, and were held at the Newstead Avenue Police Station on suspicion. One of them said he was a deputy in a Federal office. He wore an official badge and carried an automatic pistol.

Miss Roberts said to a Post-Dispatch reporter that she was visiting a Mrs. Lewis of 4604 Olive street last night, and that early this morning Mrs. Lewis telephoned for the service car to take her home. She said a larger car was in sight as she got into the service car, and that it followed, and crowded the service car into the curb, causing the driver to stop.

She said four men and a woman got out of the larger car, and that two of the men beat the driver of her car, one of them threatening him with an automatic pistol. The other men and the woman, she said, dragged her into their car, which then ran to Forest Park. She said that, when she begged to be released one of the men struck her in the face three times, one blow making a bruise on her lower lip. After this, she said, there was no further act of violence, but the men talked of taking her to the Mounted District Police Station. One of them, she said, talked of her as being wanted in a drug case. She said she had no knowledge of such a case.

She said she asked to be taken to Grand avenue, and that the four men and the woman got out of the car. The driver then took her to Theresa and Lucas avenues, where she got out and walked home. She missed her money, wrist watch and fur neckpiece. She said she could not explain the occurrences, unless she had been mistaken for another person.

The first report of the matter came to the police from the driver of the service car, who told the same story of the affair, up to the time when the larger car drove away.

The men who were arrested were identified by Frank, but not by the young woman, who said she had not seen the men clearly enough to recognize them again.

J., and mine interests at Picher, Ok., died this morning at his home in Winnetka, Ill., of pneumonia.

18 UNION LABELS ON CLOTHING OF C. T. L. U. DELEGATE

Fact Brought Out in Examination to See if Drivers' Representative Had Six Required.

A high record for the number of union labels carried on the person was established yesterday when Harry L. Ruckstuhl, 6623 Hoffmann avenue, business agent for the Bakery, Cracker, Pie and Yeast Wagon Drivers' Local No. 611, qualified as a delegate to the Central Trades and Labor Union. He had 18 labels. Every delegate to the governing body of the St. Louis trades unions must have at least six union labels on his clothing.

Ruckstuhl had union labels on his overcoat, suit, cap, shoes, socks, shirt, collar, tie, underwear, sleeveholders, belt, suspenders, pocketbook, lodge emblem, hose supporters, cigarettes, chewing tobacco and business cards. He was smoking a union-made cigar and had a union haircut, but those two articles did not count as they did not bear labels.

The delegates to the Central Trades and Labor Union undergo an examination by the Committee on Credentials once a year to comply with the rules of the organization demanding that they set an example in promoting union-made goods. The average number of labels carried by delegates is nine. The previous high record was 15.

When the chairman of the Credentials Committee announced the number of labels carried by Ruckstuhl the delegates cheered.

GIRL VISITOR, 18, ENDS LIFE AFTER PLAYING PHONOGRAPH

Sister Reports She Was in Good Spirits Before Going to Room and Drinking Poison.

Miss Erma L. Reed, 18 years old, of Peoria, Ill., a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Reed of Milan, Mo., ended her life last night by drinking poison at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harry Dee, 5172A Kensington avenue, where she had been visiting for a week.

Mrs. Dee told the police that her sister had been playing the phonograph in the living room with her young nephew and about 8:30 retired to her room. Shortly afterward Mrs. Dee heard moans and, going to the room, found the girl lying on the bed. A physician was called but the girl died within 10 minutes. Neither Mrs. Dee nor a sister in Peoria was able to offer an explanation, both stating that the girl had been in good spirits.

BAKERY DRIVERS OBTAIN INCREASE EFFECTIVE MAY 1

It Is Expected That Demands of Bakers Will Be Settled Tomorrow—Bread May Cost More.

Increases in wages ranging from $7.50 to $9 a week are provided in contracts, effective May 1, between the Master Bakers' Association and the 490 members of the Bakery, Cracker, Pie and Yeast Wagon Drivers' Union. The contracts are for a year. Salesmen, who also drive wagons, will receive $42.50 a week. They now receive $35. Stablemen now getting $15 a week will get $24 and other stablemen now getting $16 a week will get $25. There are 325 salesmen.

The bakers' demands for wage increases of from 15 to 45 per cent, effective May 1, probably will be settled tomorrow. Master bakers have said that the price of bread, rolls and all other bakery goods will have to be increased if the demand is granted.

TRADES UNIONS WILL OPEN GROCERY STORES

Members to Own Stock in Establishments and Get Goods at Little Above Cost.

An association to operate grocery stores controlled by trades unions will be organized next Sunday at a meeting of the Central Trades and Labor Union. The stores are to be co-operative and the various local unions will buy stock in the association, according to the size of their respective memberships.

The stores will be opened as soon as the organization is formed. The action of the central body is in accordance with the plans of the American Federation of Labor and is indorsed by that body.

The purpose of starting these stores is to reduce the cost of living for trades unionists by purchasing groceries in carload lots. Members of the unions and their families will be permitted to make purchases of goods at a trifle above cost besides owning stock in the stores. A large warehouse as a central source of supply will be established.

Peter Beisel, secretary and business agent of Bakers' Union No. 4, was elected treasurer of the Central Trades and Labor Union to succeed J. W. Williams, who will fill the vacancy in the National Executive Board of the Carpenters' Union created by the death of Harry Blackmore, also of St. Louis, who ended his life in Indianapolis recently.

The movement for a statewide Missouri bond organization to promote a $60,000,000 bond issue for good roads was indorsed. The appointment of David Kreyling, secretary of the Central Trades and Labor Union, as a member of Gov. Gardner's State Bond Committee was approved.

Thomas E. Coyne, president of the Teamsters' Union, was elected to represent the Central Trades and Labor Union at the Montreal (Canada) convention of the American Federation of Labor, beginning June 7.

A resolution urging the Board of Education to reject a proposed amendment to its rules excluding from employment in the public schools all teachers affiliated with trades unions was unanimously adopted. The proposition was referred to as a violation of the rights of American citizenship.

FOUR ALLEGED LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS ARE ARRESTED

Four liquor raids were made by Soulard street police yesterday. A citizen who had been given a marked $1 bill came out of the "soft drink" establishment of Michael Rager, 725 Lafayette avenue, with the report that he had purchased a drink of whisky for 50 cents. The police found a full quart bottle of moonshine whisky and a second bottle partly filled. They also found the marked bill.

The same citizen reported that he had purchased a drink of whisky for 50 cents in the soft drink establishment of Henry Dutzi, Seventh and Soulard streets, which is half a block from the Soulard police station. A search failed to disclose any whisky, but Edward Schmidt, 1628 South Third street, clerk, was arrested.

Three barrels of sour wine, a grape press, one barrel of raisin mash and a barrel of grape mash were found in the basement of the grocery of Tony Riggio, 36, 1018 North Ninth street. Riggio was arrested.

McAdoo Outlines Position on Campaign Questions

Answering Questionnaire as "Private Citizen," He Favors Shifting Burden of Tax Upon Those Who Do Not Work for Incomes.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Replying as "a private citizen" to the questionnaires issued to all candidates for presidential nominations by the National Board of Farm Organizations, former Secretary McAdoo has outlined his position on various propositions being agitated in the pre-convention campaign.

Present tax laws, McAdoo declared, should be simplified and the burden of taxation "redistributed so that the men who earn their incomes by the sweat of their brows and with their brains shall not be required to pay as heavy taxes as those who live in idleness and draw incomes from safe investments."

"A distinction shoul be made," said he, "between earned and unearned income." He declared himself opposed to all tax-free bonds.

"If after a two-year period of private ownership the railroads failed to function properly, McAdoo said, he would favor re-opening the railroad question. He declared for a "fair trial" of the new railroad law, but declared it "cannot settle the railroad problem because it does not reach fundamentals."

McAdoo declared himself for broader publicity for operations of the farm loan system; for means to bring producers and consumers closer; for representation of agriculture on boards and commissions "when consistent with public welfare;" for a Secretary of Agriculture who "understands actual farm conditions;" for reduction of farm tenantcy; for the same service and supplies for farmers' organizations in interstate commerce as apply to private enterprises in the same circumstances; for regulation of monopolistic control of corporations is interstate commerce and as "absolutely opposed to any abridgment of the right of free speech, free press or free assembly."

"I regard with concern," said McAdoo, "the tendency to restrict or impair those great constitutional guarantees upon which rest the foundations and perpetuity of democratic institutions."

McAdoo's answer was given in a letter to C. A. Lyman, secretary of the National Board of Farm Organizations.

TELEPHONE GIRL FOUND CHOKED TO DEATH ON PORCH

Bloodhounds to Be Put on Trail of Slayer at Pontiac, Mich.—Evidence of Struggle.

By the Associated Press.

PONTIAC, Mich., April 26.—The police and Sheriff's departments and a detail from the Detroit Detective Bureau are investigating the death early yesterday of Miss Vera Schneider, a telephone supervisor, whose body was found on the porch of a dwelling in one of the city's best residential sections.

The girl, 19 years old, whose home was at Elkton, Mich., had apparently been choked to death, according to the authorities. The ground surrounding the porch was torn up in places, indicating a struggle. The officers have been unable so far, they say, to develop any clew as to the identity of the assailant.

Bloodhounds will be brought here to follow what is believed to be the trail of the slayer across newly plowed ground in the rear of the house, which is under construction and unoccupied.

Miss Schneider, according to some of her friends, worked until last night and was seen in the company of a strange man about midnight. Since coming here last August she had seldom been seen with a man, it was said.

$75,000 SUIT TAKEN FROM JURY

Judge Rules There Was No Cause for Action in Undertakers' Case.

Circuit Judge Hartmann took the case of Thomas C. Stephens and Nora Stephens against the Mound City Liverymen and Undertakers' Association, a suit for $75,000 damages, from the jury today on the ground that there was no cause for action.

The case has been pending since April, 1917. Stephens and his wife, Nora Stephens, alleged that they had been forced to go out of business after they had refused to become members of the association in October, 1916. They said the association had used unfair means to ruin them.

REED LIEUTENANT DENOUNCES SHANNON'S JOPLIN COURSE

O'Malley Charges Kansas City Factional "Boss" Made "Sham" Defense of Senator.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

KANSAS CITY, April 26.—R. Emmett O'Malley, a Kansas City election commissioner, and for the past year the personal representative of Senator Reed in Democratic conferences which have involved Reed, is out today with a statement denouncing Joseph B. Shannon, a party factional "boss" in Kansas City, and charging that Shannon's defense of Reed at the Joplin convention last week was a sham.

O'Malley's statement apparently means a bitter factional fight in Kansas City between the Shannon and Tom Pendergast factions.

O'Malley in his statement said: "Throughout this campaign every move that Shannon could make in support of Senator Reed's enemies he made. My humble opinion is that, unless he retires from Democratic politics the people of this community will retire our party from control."

SUGAR REFINERS IN SESSION

Discuss Supply With U. S. Official Fighting High Cost of Living.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—More than a dozen sugar refiners met here today with Howard Figg, Assistant to the Attorney-General, in charge of the high cost of living campaign, to discuss the sugar supply. The conference was behind closed doors.

It was understood that sugar prices, if taken up at all, would be discussed in their relation to the obtaining of adequate stocks to meet the public demand.

COST OF LIVING REASON FOR PENSION INCREASE

Dollar Lost 65 Per Cent of Power, Committee Reports, Urging $65,000,000 Bill.

From the Washington Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, April 26.—Tables showing the increased cost of living since 1913 were laid before the Senate by the Committee on Pensions as "an unanswerable argument" in favor of the bill providing an increase of $65,000,000 in pensions. The measure, which has passed the House and Senate is now in conference. It would raise the amount received by Civil War veterans from the present average of $37.50 a month to $50 a month each, regardless of the length of service, and the pensions of widows from $25 to $30 a month.

A report on the bill by Senator McCumber recalled that prior to the granting of substantial pension increases in June, 1918, officers of the Grand Army of the Republic said that no further calls for aid would be made upon the Government. However, says McCumber, the Government itself, by its legislative and administrative policies, has so decreased the purchasing power of the dollar as to make necessary this new relief measure. Those who have youth as an asset and those who are engaged in business, the report said, can adapt themselves to the changed conditions, but the old soldiers and their dependents are helpless.

ZOO NOW HAS 774 ANIMALS; 50 DIED IN YEAR, 23 WERE BORN

Report Shows $8372 in Treasury, While Last Year There Was a Deficit of $17,039.

The annual report of the Zoological Board of Control, which will be presented to the Board of Aldermen tomorrow, will show that the fiscal year ended with a balance of $8372.49 in the treasury. Last year there was a deficit of $17,039.90. The total receipts last year were $195,289.77 and the expenditures $186,917.28. The receipts included $15,913.60 from the refreshment pavilion, which is run by the board.

There are now at the zoo, according to the report, 774 animals, reptiles and birds. During the year about 50 died or were killed. There were 23 births, including three white deer, three tiger cubs, one Himalaya goat, one zebu, two elk and three lions.

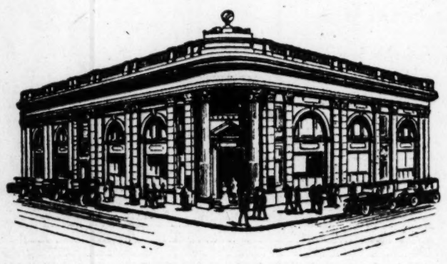

The attendance during the year was the largest in the history of the zoo.

TWO MEN HURT IN ACCIDENTS AT GARRETT WINE CO. PLANT

Two accidents occurred at the new plant of the Garrett Wine Co., 4120 North Union boulevard, today, each caused by the slick condition of construction material due to rain.

Ernest Hastings, 40 years old, of 3855 West Pine boulevard, slipped and fell from a jib pipe extending from a derrick, 26 feet above the ground, and suffered five fractured ribs, concussion of the brain and internal injuries. The ambulance had just returned from conveying him to St. John's Hospital when it was again called to the plant, Martin Gilmore, 53, who was unable to give his address, having fallen from a scaffold 20 feet above the ground. He also was taken to St. John's Hospital, where it was found he had suffered five fractured ribs, a scalp wound and internal injuries.

"MONTE CRISTO JR." IS OPULENT PRODUCTION

But Vaudeville Skits, Arbitrarily Injected, Have Reminiscent Cast.

By RICHARD L. STOKES.

SO far as exterior values are concerned, "Monte Cristo Jr.," which is occupying the final week of the Shubert-Jefferson's season, proved last night to be a thing of beauty and opulence. In chorus and in principals as well, it possesses a remarkably high content of prepossessing femininity. Rich and colorful fabrics, designed by a taste both munificent and artistic after the modes of various periods and picturesque races, have been lavished upon the hundreds of costumes. The settings are often sumptuous, and one, "The Harbor of Marseilles," with a galley drooping silken crimson sails from its mast, recalls for an instant the splendors of "Chu Chin Chow" itself.

But when one comes to what may be called the intrinsic values of the production, the picture lags notably behind the frame. We have, to be sure, a filament of plot borrowed from one of the most fascinating of romances, Dumas' "Count of Monte Cristo"—with the result of proving that the interest of such a story simply cannot be killed, whatever the mayhems committed upon it. The lyrics are the usual fatuous stuff, with little sense, wit, meter or rhyme. The music, attributed to Sigmund Romberg and Jean Schwartz, is the conventional expanse of light-hearted, lively and undistinguished tunes—with startling purple patches, however, at moments when the composers saw fit to help themselves to Tschaikowsky's "Andante Cantabile," or Verdi's "Celeste Aida," or a dance from "Carmen," or a passage from "Madame Butterfly."

Vaudeville Versus Plot.

It would seem also that the Messrs. Shubert, having under contract a number of vaudeville headliners for whom they must find employment, built the extravaganza about their skits, instead of inventing and procuring such divertissments as would be necessitated by the logic of the action. The joinery is sometimes cleverly concealed, but frequently the seams gape wide.

Whether the program, considered as a succession of vaudeville acts, will be considered a first-rate bill will probably depend upon individual taste. The capacity Sunday night audience gave every sign of hilarious enjoyment. But for some the only singing worthy of mention during the evening was that of the Watson sisters, Fanny and Kitty, although the former depends chiefly upon her elephantine gambols and jokes at the expense of her own tonnage. The single artistic dancing act is a "Toy Dance" by Kathleen O'Hanlon and Al Phillips, portraying the romance of a doll and a tin soldier. It was probably inspired by the episode of Olympia in "Tales of Hoffman." John Miller and James Mack have several genuinely amusing eccentric dances.

The comedy, mostly of the knockabout and horseplay variety, is supplied by Fanny Watson, J. Francis Dooley, Lew Hearn and John Miller. There are those who relish the familiar Dooley imbecilities, with Corrine Sales industriously ballyhooing laughter from the audience for her partner's foolishments. Hearn, of the piping treble voice, has his usual "yap" mirth-making. For frequenters of the two-a-day, there is something very reminiscent about most of the production's vaudeville.

The Modern Monte Cristo.

To get back to the story, there is a certain youth named Monte who has three enemies. It is little credit to his literary taste that he falls asleep while reading "Monte Cristo." This occurs at a rural railway station. He dreams that he is Edmond Dantes of the novel; he is arrested at Marseilles through the machinations of his foes; is imprisoned in the Chateau D-If, and makes his escape not by tunneling or permitting himself to be sewn in a sack, but by virtue of a magic ray which makes him invisible. This ray is called "The Unknown Purple," after one of the season's successful plays on Broadway.

Having possessed himself of the wealth of the Abbe Faria, he emerges as the fabulous Count of Monte Cristo, and proceeds to count his enemies out after the justly celebrated "One! Two! Three!" formula. Then he awakens in time to find that he is wealthy through the discovery of a gold mine, and appears, in the hurry of the finale, to "improve" upon the original Monte by forgiving his foes instead of ruining them. During his dream scenes the principal characters of the novel appear—the villanous Fernand and Danglers, the fickle Mercedes, the iniquitous Mme. Caderouse, and the faithful slave girl, Haydee. Two of these roles are taken with uncommon ability—that of Monte Cristo, by John Squires; and that of Fernand, by George Baldwin.

The most artistic scenes display a "Terrace on Lake George," "The Harbor of Marseilles," "The Cave of Jewels," "The Carnival at Rome," "The Ball Room at Mercedes' Home," and "The Sunken Garden." A moving picture of a stormy sea is effectively combined with the stage in the escape from prison, the actual characters being seen apparently struggling through the waters to refuge upon a reef. In another pleasant stage effect, the characters from "Monte Cristo" emerge one by one from the pages of a giant volume.

Excellent Cast in "Turn to Right" on Return Visit.

"Turn to the Right," a homespun comedy which obtained approbation here on a previous visit, returned to the American theater last night with an excellent cast.

A motherly woman and her miraculous peach jam, a skinflint deacon, two rogues, late of Sing Sing, and a wayward son are the ingredients of a simple plot wherein the Mother Bascom keeps her old home, the skinflint deacon is routed, and the wayward son and the two rogues are reformed—all by the wonderful peach jam.

The cast comprises Stuart Fox, Mike Donlin, William Foran, Samuel Reed (an excellent deacon), Sidney Henderson, Leo Chalzel, Charles W. Goodrich, Jane Ellison (Mother Bascom), Rita Doss, Sylvia Field, Maude Huntley and others.

Because Good Grain is Scarce

PARTIAL failure of the hard winter wheat crop, due to unfavorable weather conditions which prevented ripening, has made good grain very scarce this year.

Yet Valier's Enterprise Flour continues to be milled from only the highest grade wheat. Rather than lower its quality in the slightest degree, we prefer to pay the unusually high premium which such grain commands in the market.

Valier's Enterprise Flour

stands out pre-eminently in consequence. It can always be depended on to produce uniformly good baking, as wholesome as it is delicious.

If you have been troubled with seemingly unaccountable failures and generally unsatisfactory baking, try a sack of Valier's Enterprise Flour. The improvement will surprise you.

The initial cost of such flour is of course slightly higher, but the difference is repaid in the end by better, more reliable baking and

INTERCHURCH MOVE CAMPAIGN

Solicitation Among "Friendly Citizens" This Week.

Solicitation in behalf of the Interchurch World movement, among the "Friendly Citizens" group of prospective givers, will take place this week. The solicitors are for the most part church members, but the list of men to be visited includes many outside the churches, who will be asked to give in appreciation of philanthropic work of the churches. From this group a total of $400,000 is to be sought in this city. Thirty Protestant denominations are represented in the movement.

A number of sermons explaining and advocating the movement were preached yesterday.

SMITH COLLEGE CLUB TO HOLD HAT SALE

Hand-Made Hats Sent From Philippines for Benefit of Salary Endowment Fund.

"BE a sport and buy a sport hat," is the plea the Smith College Club of St. Louis has on the announcements it has sent out about the sale of hats, it will hold Wednesday. The sale will be a little out of the ordinary inasmuch as the hats offered for sale have come from the Phillipine Islands and are all hand made. They are of every conceivable color and shape and are as light as feathers. They will stretch for a large head or can be drawn in for a smaller one and are so soft that if they become sunburned on one side all you have to do is to turn them inside out and you have a new hat. Some of them are airplane hats with broad-winged sides and some are roughly fussy all over. There are the latest fringed hats, and some are trimmed with hemp straw flowers.

The Smith Club of the Philippine Islands, which boasts eight members, sent a great quantity of these hats to the Smith College campaign headquarters in New York, to be sold for the Smith College salary endowment fund. They are now being sold by the Smith Clubs in every city, the proceeds to go to the endowment fund.

The sale will be held here Wednesday at 2 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Nathaniel Ewing, 46 Kingsbury place, and a warning is sent to those who wish a hat to be on time, as at the recent sale in New York the hats were said to have gone like "hot cakes," and the club here has a limited number. The hats will be priced at $5, $7 and $10 each.

Among the Smith Club women who will act as saleswomen Wednesday are Miss Margaret Shapleigh, Mrs. James McCluney, Miss Stella Garrett, Mrs. Rollin Gallager, Miss Edith Souther, Mrs. Wessel Shapleigh, Mrs. B. J. Hirsch, Mrs. Henry Ferriss, Mrs. Alfred Sihler, Mrs. Samuel McCluney and Mrs. William Scheville.

Social Items

The marriage of Miss Norma Greenwald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. Greenwald of 5885 Nina place, to Lewis Nachman was solemnized at 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening, at the Washington Hotel. The attendants were Miss Ida Nachman and Milton W. Greenwald, who acted as maid of honor and best man. After a reception, Mr. Nachman and bride departed on a honeymoon trip through Southern California and on their return they will be at home at 749 Westgate avenue.

Miss Marian Franciscus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James M. Franciscus of 10 Lennox place, will be among the St. Louisans traveling in Europe this summer. She expects to sail the latter part of next month.

The marriage of Miss Frances Marion Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Allen of Webster Groves, and Jerome Lyon Ashcroft, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ashcroft, 4954 McPherson avenue, will be solemnized this evening at the Emmanuel Episcopal Church in Webster Groves, the Rev. Dr. Courtney Jones officiating. The bridegroom will have his father for best man, and there will be no other attendants. A wedding supper for the immediate families will follow at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will reside in St. Joseph, Mo., where they will be at home after May 10. Miss Allen is a graduate of Washington University, and a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority. Mr. Ashcroft was in the service two years in France.

Miss Stella Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Garrett of 29 Kingsbury place, has returned home from a two months' visit in the East. En route home she stopped in Evanston, Ill., to visit her sister, Mrs. Stanley Tuthill.

ADVENTURE IS KEYNOTE OF FILM ATTRACTIONS

"Soldiers of Fortune," "The Woman Gives," "Desert Love" and "Woman in Room 13."

A very good film version of Richard Harding Davis' famous story, "Soldiers of Fortune," opened yesterday for a week's run at the Kings. This is an Allan Dwan production with Norman Kerry and the sumptuous Anna Q. Nilsson in the leading roles.

The screen story follows the book with rare fidelity and the South American revolution episodes afford excellent opportunity for fine action and massed effects by a large force of supernumeraries. The fortunes of Robert Clay, civil engineer, are followed through a series of strange adventures and the most is made out of the romantic side of his adventures.

On the bill also are several excellent short-reel features and a musical feature, the singing of "Alabama Moon," with a special stage setting.

Well Directed Drama.

Norma Talmadge and an all-star cast are seen to good avantage in "The Woman Gives," which opened for a week at the New Grand Central and West End Lyric. This First National attraction is finely photographed and well directed, though not startling novel in conception. It is another of these studio triangles, with a young woman model and two artists, one poor and one rich, as artists sometimes are—in the pictures. The poor artist loves the model and the rich one befriends her. Things are complicated by the fact that the benefactor has a wife and is jealous. When he thinks he has found grounds for his worst fears he becomes a drunkard and in due time a drug addict. This gives an opportunity for some Chinatown settings. The beautiful model saves the jealous artist from himself, but in doing so she arouses the jealousy of the other artist, with many resultant complications. A news weekly and comic also are on the bill.

Daring "Stunts" By Mix.

Tom Mix, "daredevil of the screen," does some of his most daring and thrilling stunts in "Desert Love," a Fox feature which is the leading attraction on the Liberty Theater bill. In this film Mix is a quarter-breed Apache Sheriff who goes out to wreak vengeance on a gang of Arizona outlaws who have murdered his father and affronted his sweetheart's sister. Francelia Billington and Eva Novak are in the cast.

An added feature on the Liberty bill is Vivian Rich, a new Fox star, in a society drama entitled "Would You Forgive." The program also includes a Sunshine comedy, a Mutt and Jeff, a news weekly and a Prizma colored picture.

At the Royal "Why Change Your Wife" went into its second week and at the Central the bill is Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna."

Pauline Frederick in "The Woman in Room 13" is the feature at the Pershing for the first half of the week. The story is that of a woman who has divorced her husband, a police commissioner and has found happiness in a second marriage. The second husband is made jealous through the influence of the first husband, who has changed his name and become a detective. When the husband is told his wife is at the home of his employer he bursts into a room and shoots his employer. The court scene which follows is well done and its development is of a surprising nature.

The Pershing Funelogue, a current news weekly, an animated cartoon and special music by the Pershing orchestra and Alfred Rohan, tenor, complete the bill.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

R. V. HOLLAND, SECRETARY OF HOLland's Magazine, Dallas, Tex., will tell members of the Advertising Club at its luncheon meeting at Hotel Statler tomorrow at 12:15 how $100,000 was spent in six weeks in an educational campaign. The subject of his talk will be "Ten Men From Texas." "The Paper Situation" will be discussed at the second of the "brass tack talks."

POLICE ITEMS

JOHN BENESKI, 64 YEARS OLD, EMployed and living above a soft drink stand at 3900 North Broadway, reported having been robbed of $150 out of $300 he kept in a sock beneath a pillow in his room early yesterday. Police took him to the station and in his pockets they found $468. He said the amount was the other $150 left by the thieves and some other money he had managed to save.

JAMES WIDMER, 14 YEARS OLD, OF East St. Louis, captured by neighbors as he and another boy were leaving the Wheatley School, 4220 Papin street, yesterday afternoon, admitted, the police say, he had broken into the school, searching all the desks and taking a revolver belonging to the janitor. He also admitted having ransacked the Franklin School, Nineteenth and Morgan streets, Saturday night, overturning a lot of desks and stealing 70 cents and three knives.

A NEGRO BURGLAR WITH A FLASHlight in the home of Michael Oats, 900 South Ewing avenue, early yesterday, choked Helen Oates, 14 years old, when she was awakened by the light and asked the man his business in her room. She managed to free herself and screamed. The negro fled. He took a child's bank containing 75 cents.

BURGLARS AT THE HOME OF RAYmond G. Bales, 5288 Page boulevard, yesterday, took $250 in jewelry. Other burglaries reported were in the homes of Peter Nauert, 2309 Shenandoah avenue; Mrs. Margaret M. Turner, 3638A Park avenue; Mrs. Menga Riech, 3428 South Spring avenue; Peter Sommer, 3633 McDonald avenue, and Emil J. Lehr, 3815 Fairview avenue.

A SNEAK THIEF IN THE ROOM OF Mr. and Mrs. Paul McFillen of Chicago, at the Woodford Hotel, Fifteenth and Market streets, stole a marriage certificate, a note for $1000, jewelry valued at $225 and $35 in money early yesterday. Mrs. McFillen awoke shortly after 2:30 a. m. and saw the man ransacking the room and screamed. The thief escaped.

MEN LEAVE THROUGH WINDOW WHEN DICE GAME IS RAIDED

Owner of Flat and Five Others Captured, Ten Escape, Two Plead Guilty.

When policemen raided Lawrence Bambrick's flat, 2932A Belt avenue, at 11:15 p. m. Saturday, 10 men who had been playing dice in the dining room went through a front window and slid down a porch post. Bambrick and five others were arrested. The police had watched the game through a window leading on to a back porch.

In Police Court today Bambrick and one other participant in the game pleaded guilty to charges of gambling and were released on payment of $3 costs each. The others were discharged.

203 Naval Reserves Wanted for Cruise.

The navy is asking for 203 naval reserves to go on the midshipmen's summer practice cruise, which will begin May 10 at Philadelphia and include a trip to Cuba, through the Panama Canal, to Hawaii, along the Pacific Coast and return to Philadelphia by Sept. 10. With the exception of firemen, rated men are desired. Those who wish to go should apply to Commander G. F. Schwartz, 413 Laclede Gas Building, before Friday.

Mrs. Sarah H. Curlee Dead.

Mrs. Sarah H. Curlee, 87 years old, mother of John R. Curlee, vice president of the Carleton Dry Goods Co., died yesterday afternoon at the home of her daughter, Mrs. N. U. Phillips, 6230 Waterman avenue, from the effects of a severe cold. She was the widow of John M. Curlee, who was killed in the Civil War.

POLICE WOULD SUMMON, NOT ARREST, TRAFFIC VIOLATORS

New Ordinance Sought, Giving City Marshal Power to Bring in Those Who Fail to Appear.

An ordinance giving the police authority to summon automobile drivers charged with trivial violations of the traffic laws into court instead of arresting them and causing considerable inconvenience in arranging bond will be sought by Chief O'Brien and the secretary of the Police Board in a conference with City Counselor Daues today.

The system was used formerly by the police, but was given up three years ago, when Judges of the police court reported that only about half of the violators appeared in court on the summonses. The City Marshal at that time said he was without authority to make subsequent arrests for the failure to appear, so the police started making arrests instead of using the summonses.

The new ordinance, if drawn, will give the Marshal power to deal with those who ignore the police summonses.

NEW ART OBJECTS AT MUSEUM

Display of Recently Acquired Oriental Articles to Be Held Thursday.

Recently acquired art objects in the Chinese and Japanese sections of the City Art Museum will be placed on display Thursday night, when the galleries will be open from 7:30 to 10:30, with the museum staff to aid in displaying the articles. William K. Bixby, who selected the art objects for the museum, and other objects for his private collection while on a tour of the Orient last year, will give a talk on his experiences.

The new acquisitions, it is announced, include many examples of Chinese sculptures, paintings and ceramics of the Han, Tang, Sung and later Chinese dynasties; Japanese armor, arms, lacquer and sculpture and Korean ceramics. The municipal motor busses will run between the museum and the University and Union car lines at De Baliviere avenue.

The Bond Issue for All St. Louis

THERE are three forces that build a city—the individual, the group, the community. Community needs require community action. The whole people must join in certain basic city building projects or they will not be accomplished, and the need of them will hamper the whole community, every group and every individual.

THE Bond Issue to be voted on May 11th calls for a community response to a community demand. We must all get behind it or it will fail and its failure will hurt all of us and each of us.

Last year the Mayor appointed a Citizens' Committee to draw up plans for a program for All-St. Louis development. The crying need for improvements in our basic community plant was apparent—had been so for years.

The people of the city, it was felt, would come overwhelmingly to the support of a plan which took care of all our general needs and at the same time showed partiality to no special section or special interest.

A Representative Body

THE personnel of the Mayor's Committee is perhaps the best argument for the whole-city quality of the plans they made. They were:

| | |
|---|---|
| Harland Bartholomew | Engineer, City Plan Commission |
| Rev. W. C. Bitting | Pastor, Second Baptist Church |
| Rhodes E. Cave | Lawyer |
| Dr. B. W. Clarke | |

| Rev. Leon Harrison | Rabbi, Temple Israel |
| Charles F. Hatfield | Sec. and Gen. Manager, St. Louis Convention & Publicity Bureau |
| George C. Hitchcock | Lawyer |
| James A. Hook | Director, Public Utilities |
| John L. Johnston | Pres., Liberty Bank |
| E. R. Kinsey | Surveyor and Engineer |
| Charles J. Lammert | Pres., Building Trades Council |
| Thomas Lovelace | Asst. Sec., Chamber of Commerce |
| J. L. Mauran | Architect |
| J. N. McKelvey | Director of Public Safety and Building Commissioner |
| Edwin B. Meissner | Vice Pres., St. Louis Car Co. |
| Owen Miller | Late Sec., American Federation of Musicians |
| Julius Pitzman | Engineer |
| John Schmoll | Director of Public Welfare |

| Prof. James L. Usher | Principal, Garnett School |
| Wm. Wedemeyer | Architect |
| Frederick Widman | Architect |
| Prof. Frank L. Williams | Principal, Sumner High School |
| Melville L. Wilkinson | Pres., Scruggs-Vandervoort-Barney Dry Goods Co. |

$24,000,000 for Us All

THE plans approved by this committee, and the amount of money which they decided on as absolutely necessary were as follows:

No. 1—The elimination of grade crossings, etc., $905,000

No. 2—The purchase of land for public parks, playgrounds, etc., $1,385,000.

No. 3—The improvement of existing parks, playgrounds, etc., $1,174,500.

No. 4—The municipal auditorium and community center, $900,000.

No. 5—The construction and reconstruction of public sewers, etc., $2,575,000.

No. 6—The conversion of the River des Peres into a public sewer, $9,000,000.

No. 7—The purchase of land and construction of buildings for a correctional farm to replace the present workhouse, $400,000.

No. 8—The purchase of land and construction and equipment of buildings for the care of tubercular, insane, feeble-minded and convalescent patients—in separate groups, $1,100,000.

No. 9—The purchase of land and construction of an approach to the west end of Municipal Bridge, $1,500,000.

No. 10—The construction of a Municipal Dock in the vicinity of Victor Street, $1,700,000.

No. 11—Payment of city for cost of opening and widening streets, $1,250,000.

No. 12—Purchase of land and building of fire engine houses, etc., $360,000.

No. 13—The erection and construction of equipment at Bellefontaine farms, $156,000.

No. 14—The construction of additional cells at city jail, $76,000.

No. 15—The construction and erection of a new morgue, $68,000.

No. 16—The construction and erection of a municipal garage, $90,000.

No. 17—The maintenance of streets and highways as general thoroughfares, $360,000.

No. 18—The purchase of equipment and installation of an electric light system in parks and streets, $1,000,000.

IT is plain that these are, every one of them, the sort of whole-city plans for which a bond issue alone would be possible or fair. They are of the people, by the people and for the people. Doing without them is costing us all money and trouble and danger. Getting them will benefit every class and locality alike. Paying for them will add an average of perhaps five dollars a year to the taxes per registered voter, while at the same time adding sums far above that to the average wealth of the community.

This is a plain business proposition, this bond issue. It is a chance to make individual money out of community action. Every individual has the same chance. Make use of it.

Vote the Bonds on May 11th.

SIXTH INNING.

DETROIT—Pinelli out, Vangilder to Sisler. Cobb walked. Heilman out, Gerber to Sisler. Cobb went to third on a balk. Veach popped to Gerber. NO RUNS.

BOSTON WOMEN THIRD IN OLYMPIC SKATING

ANTWERP, April 26.—The Americans displayed considerable disappointment over the awards in the Olympic skating competitions for women, Saturday night. An examination of the judges' scores yesterday morning showed that on the total points made, Miss Therese Weld of Boston, Mass., should have had second place. Her total was 898 points, against Miss Norin's 887 and Miss Tulin's 913½. However, by the complicated award system used, each judge picked first, second and third choices in addition to estimating the number of points scored and Miss Weld was put third. Each of the competing nations had a judge except America.

Nathaniel W. Niles of Boston competed in the school figure skating yesterday morning against 10 of the best skaters in the world, including Ulirich Salchow, the champion. Norway, Sweden and England each had two entries, and Italy, Switzerland, France and Finland and America one each. The awards will be made after the free skating contests, which will probably be decided today.

MILTON SETS SIX NEW WORLD'S AUTO RECORDS

DAYTONA, Fla., April 26.—Six world's records for automobiles were broken here yesterday by Tom Milton in his 16-cylinder car. The event is being sanctioned and supervised by American Automobile Association officials. Milton covered one kilometer in :14.66; three miles in 1.12.18; four miles in 1.26.14, and five miles in 2.00.04. Previous records, held by Ralph de Palma, were: 1 kilometer :14.86, three miles 1.15.04, four miles 1.39.77 and five miles 2.04.53.

Milton also reduced his world's record for the half mile and the mile, doing the half in :11.86 and the mile in :22.56.

Chilean Athletes Win.

SANTIAGO, Chile, April 26.—The fourth South American Olympic tournament came to an end today. For the third time the Chilean athletes were victorious, scoring 61 points against 43 for Urugnay and 20 for Argentina.

Three South American records were broken. Rosenquist of Chile won the 200-meter hurdles event in 0:26 1-5. In the 200-meter dash, Gradin of Uruguay won in 0:22 2-5, and in the 100-meter dash, Urange of Chile finished first in 0:10 4-5.

ROBINS BEAT DISSTONS; HARRY RATICAN IS STAR

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Robins Dry Dock Soccer team defeated the Disstons, 3 to 1, in a National League football clash at Todd Field yesterday. Harry Ratican, St. Louis boy, scored the first two goals for the Robins, while his perfect pass to Hayes made possible the third. Malley tallied the lone goal for the Disstons.

Conlan Wins Golf Title.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Sam L. Colan Jr., San Francisco public links player, won the Northern California amateur golf championship here yesterday, defeating Jack Neville, State champion, 5 up and 4 to play.

Clayton Beats Kirkwood.

The Clayton High School nine won its third consecutive game, Saturday, when it defeated Kirkwood High, 5 to 3. Denny and Rapp served as the winners' battery, while Payne and Martin did similar duty for Kirkwood. Clayton meets Ferguson tomorrow afternoon.

Texans Break Athletic Records.

WACO, Tex., April 26.—Two more Southwestern Conference records were shattered by Baylor University at Pletes here against Southwestern. Dotson hurled the discus 126 feet 2 inches and Pittman cleared the bar at 6 feet ¾ inch in the high, beating the record recently set by Waltman of Texas University at 6 feet.

Chapman Argues With Chill.

Ray Chapman argued with Umpire Chill that he had been hit by a pitched ball in the third, but it did no good. While the argument was going on, Sothoron rushed in, but was chased back to the hill by the arbiter.

Big First Inning Enables Reds to Defeat Cardinals

Champions Found Goodwin in Opening Frame for 4 Runs and Win 7 to 5.

CARDS-REDS GAME OFF

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Today's game between the St. Louis Cardinals and the Reds was called off on account of rain.

CINCINNATI, April 26.—Sheer, savage hitting of the old-fashioned kind, won the first clash between the Reds and Cardinals yesterday, 7 to 5. There was nothing to choose as to wild pitching—the two Cardinal slingers walked five and hit one, and Ring walked six, making it all even-Steven. That put it up to the batters, and the Red hitters smashed furiously.

Rickey's men, out-whacked, borne down right at the start by an avalanche, did well to make it so close. For the chances they had, they did as well as the Reds. They got only 15 men to base via hits, passes and errors, and managed to drive in five of them. The Reds, along the same lines, got 21 men on, and scored seven of the number—exactly the same percentage of runs, off chances offered, for each club.

It was really all over after the first round. In that awful epoch, Goodwin passed Daubert and Groh, Roush tripled, and Kopf singled. Four runs scored during the inning. After that the Cardinals just tried. You have to give it to them for trying. Ring started the second, against Sherdel, with a surprising hit, and was batted around. Duncan's walk and Kopf's raging triple meant another in the seventh. Ring strolled, and the other Reds biffed him in, just to feature the eighth.

Card Rallies Fall Short.

The Cardinals were trying and failing till the eighth. Then two-baggers by Shotton and Hornsby, with a walk to Stock interlaced, and a neat hit by Janvrin, counted three. In the ninth, Sherdel and Shotton walked, and their allies rallied sturdily, batting both of them over.

Ruether may pitch for the Reds and Jacobs for the Cards tomorrow afternoon. If Sallee is "right," he is likely to draw the assignment on Moran's team.

Janvrin looked great at short. He was leaping high for liners, and was transferring hot bounders to second for force plays in excellent fashion.

Millers Reach U. S. Soccer Final by Beating Packards

St. Louis Association Team, Surprised at Being Held Even in First Half, Outplays Opponents in Second Period to Win 4 to 2.

By W. S. Bascom,
Washington U. Baseball Coach and Former St. Louis Soccer League Referee.

THE Ben Millers, champions of the St. Louis Soccer League, entered the final in the United States Football Association cup competition by defeating the Packards of Detroit, 4 to 2, in the Western semifinal at High School Field yesterday afternoon. More than 3700 persons paid to see the battle, despite the counter attraction of the Cleveland-Browns baseball game.

As a result of their victory, Pete Ratican's athletes will oppose the Fore River Football Club of Quincy, Mass., in the championship game, May 9, at a place still to be selected.

Despite the fact that the Millers were forced to play yesterday's contest with a rearranged lineup, Ratican's eleven played good soccer throughout. During the first 10 minutes of the battle, in which time two goals were scored, the St. Louis representatives looked like real champions.

Most of the changes in the Millers' lineup came in the forward line. "Hap" Marre was unable to play as the result of an injury to his foot, suffered the previous Sunday in a practice game with the Stoovers. Then "Buck" Redden was shifted to the halfback line. Rooney and Riley were used in the front line and both showed up to advantage.

Millers Score on Penalty Kick.

The St. Louis representatives in the national championship started with a rush and after eight minutes had elapsed, sent through their first goal, as the result of a penalty kick by "Rube" Potee. The kick was awarded by Referee Phil Kavanaugh following a foul by right Fullback Rennie of the Packards.

With a one-goal advantage and a chance at the U. S. title in sight, the Millers put on full steam ahead and two minutes later scored the second point. Lawrence Riley shooting, after receiving a perfect pass from Rooney. "Goalie" Roberts of the visitors had no chance to save.

With a lead of two goals, something seemed to go wrong with the Millers for the next 20 minutes, they were on the defense. During this time, Quinn, Shea and Johnston showed at their best. The play of Billy Quinn, one of the best halfbacks developed in this city, was the real feature of the Millers' play throughout. He exceeded all his past performances.

Allen Proves a Flivver.

After battling 30 minutes, Mercer scored the first goal for the Packards. Harry Allen, the much-heralded goal scorer of the Detroit aggregation, who tallied four points in the Packards' game with Rochester, never came close yesterday. However, it was his perfect pass to Hunter, which enabled the latter to even the count shortly before the first half ended. Hunter shot through the right-handed corner of the upright and McGarry had no chance to clear.

While in the first half, the Millers were aided by a stiff wind, they forced matters at the opening of the closing half and for the first 15 minutes play was entirely in the Packard territory. Shortly after the half started, Al McHenry, who had a tough time of it all afternoon, missed a shot from a difficult angle, the ball hitting the cross-bar.

The goal that put the Millers ahead was tallied by Riley. It came as a result of some pretty passing by the St. Louisans. Quinn got the ball in midfield and handed it to Rooney, who in turn passed it along to Riley, who was uncovered at the time.

A moment later "Rube" Potee, after taking a pass from Quinn, made a wonderful shot for goal, but the ball hit the uprights. Two minutes after this incident, however, Potee caught Roberts, the Packard guardsman, flat-footed and banged through the locals fourth and final goal of the game.

Allen and Rennie Visiting Stars.

While every member of the Millers played at his best all the way, Harry Allen and Fullback Rennie starred for the invaders. It was Rennie's great defensive play that saved his team from being defeated by a much larger score.

The Millers fouled six times and the Packards on three occasions. Offside was called on the Millers seven times and only twice on the Packards. Mercer was guilty each time of off-side was called on the visitors. Riley, three times; Potee, McHenry, Rooney and Dunn were offside for the locals. This tends to show that the Miller forwards were playing an aggressive game throughout.

Statistics of the Game.

| | Millers. 1 H. | 2 H. | Packards. 1 H. | 2 H. |
|---|---|---|---|---|
| Goals | 2 | 2 | 2 | 0 |
| Shots at goal | 6 | 13 | 2 | 2 |

St. Louis Fans Trying To Have Fore River Play Title Game Here

EFFORTS are being made to induce the United States Football Association to award the deciding championship soccer game between the Millers of this city and the Fore Rivers of Quincy, Mass., to St. Louis. The date set is May 9. This will conflict with the World's Championship Cincinnati team's appearance here against the Cardinals.

Business men and soccer fans appealed to Thomas W. Cahill, the U. S. F. A. secretary, who viewed yesterday's contest, to use his influence to bring the final match here. Pawtucket and Philadelphia are possible rivals of St. Louis.

Despite the counter attraction of the Cleveland-Browns game the attendance yesterday was about 4000 paid admissions. For the championship it is figured that this would be at about doubled, despite the Cincinnati attraction.

There is only a remote possibility that the baseball and football games will be decided as a double-header at Cardinal Field. It is probable that Federal Park will be fitted up for the occasion and the field leveled and improved.

A neutral referee will be appointed for the final. If the game comes here, Paul McSweeney and Phil Kavanaugh will be linesmen.

Bandy Will Test His Injured Fist On Silver's Head

South Side Boxer Will Make First Appearance in Seven Months Tonight.

Whether Eddie Vandeventer (Kid Bandy) ruined his pugilistic career when he broke his right hand on the dome of Harry Kabakoff, seven months ago, will be determined tonight at the South Broadway Athletic Club, where he is to meet Charles Silver in an eight-round boxing feature.

Bandy's hand has caused him a world of annoyance and many hundreds of dollars, since the accident. Whereas he received only $300 for beating Kabby, his absence from employment and his surgical expense, due to having had the bones of his hand twice rebroken to perfect the healing process, cost him over $1200. He has been unable to fight in all that period and he figures that his pocketbook is shy an additional $4000 that he might have earned in the ring.

Ordinarily Bandy would be a red-hot favorite to defeat Silver who lacks the punch and the experience of Bandy. The latter's long idleness and the uncertainty as to his injured hand lends a doubt to the showing he will make.

Silver formerly worked out with Bandy and knows his style thoroughly. Bandy has been boxing with Welterweight Young Denny and has pleased all his admirers with his form and punching power.

Besides the main event, two other bouts are carded as follows: Sammy Sherman of St. Louis vs. Jimmy Kern of East St. Louis, and Kid Polar vs. Jimmy Wallace.

ST. LOUIS WOMEN ROLL INTO SECOND PLACE IN CHICAGO PIN TOURNEY

CHICAGO, April 26.—The Washington team of St. Louis, bowling last night on an early squad rolled into second place in the women's tenpin tourney, with a total of 2128, which consisted of games of 698, 749 and 681.

Mrs. E. E. Grubb, captain, and Mrs. George Meyer, tied for honors with 453. Mrs. W. Carroll was next with 420. Mrs. Schuerman and Mrs. George Boundy each rolled 401.

The meeting of the National Association and election of officers will be held today when three more St. Louis teams take the drives. They are the Vegacos, Rebounds and Valley Parks.

The Brass Works of Burlington, Wis., are in first place, with 2141.

SCOTT PLAYS IN 534TH SUCCESSIVE GAME TODAY, A BIG LEAGUE RECORD

BOSTON, April 26.—Everett Scott, shortstop of the Boston Americans, will break all major league records for playing in consecutive games when he takes the field against the Athletics at Philadelphia today. With today's game Scott will have participated in 534 consecutive league contests. Luderus of the Philadelphia Nationals set the record at 533 games last season, but he has not played this year.

Hanlon and Wallace Matched.

DALLAS, Tex., April 26.—Jimmy Hanlon, Denver, and Otto Wallace, Milwaukee, have signed for 12 rounds here May 15, under the auspices of the Sixth Texas Cavalry.

SPORT SALAD

By L. C. Davis

A Circus Strike.

CARPEN-TE-AY, a ring career,
Will very soon commence;
He'll join a circus, and we hear
The interest is in tents.
The Bearded Woman and the Yak
Will meekly fade away,
And take a seat way in the back,
For G. Carpen-te-ay.

The Elephant will pack his trunk,
And go out on a strike;
The Armadillo and the Monk,
For other scenes will hike.
The Dromedary will refuse,
Upon the job to stay,
When he receives the dreadful news
About Carpen-te-ay.

The famous beast of Holy Writ
Will sweat nine quarts of blood;
And dive into his tank and hit
The bottom with a thud.
The canvasman will fold his tent,
And softly steal away,
Unless he gets the increment
Of G. Carpen-te-ay.

The fierce and war-like Hottentots
Will quit and leave the show;
The Leopard, too, will change his spots,
And into mouring go.
The man with the elastic skin
Will stretch himself and say:
"Ho, hum! Us freaks can never win
With G. Carpen-te-ay."

The trained and highly cultured seal
No more will beat the drum;
The Lion will let out a squeal
And make the welkin hum.
The justly famous sacred cow
Will hit the Milky Way;
And all the clowns will have to bow
To G. Carpen-te-ay.

The man upon the high trapeze,
Upon a strike will go;
And eke the educated fleas
Will jump the bloomin' show.
The Wild Man, late of Borneo,
Grows wilder every day,
Because he cannot cop the dough
Like G. Carpen-te-ay.

TOO TRUE.

Carpentier is to receive $2000 per day. Indicating that the carpenters have a little something on the bricklayers.

In Pittsburg the ball team loafs on bright, sunshiny days, and plays when it rains. Must be saving up their doubleheaders for a rainy day.

Twenty-seven games were postponed in 10 days in the major leagues. From which we gather that J. Pluvius is in spring season form.

Due to Babe Ruth's busted cartilage Ping Bodie has been reinstated. It was an ill-wind that wafted Ping back into the pastime.

WHY IMPORT?

See where a Canadian paid $200 for three chickens from Connecticut. He could have gone right down to the Union Market and done just about as well.

Harry Schaefer Winner.

Harry Schaefer, with a total of 635, won the individual sweepstakes bowling tournament on the Washington alleys Saturday. Gene Kohaus was second and Harry Deen third.

Canadians Defeat U.S. Hockey Team

Americans Unable to Penetrate Foe's Defense—Sweden Is Other Finalist.

ANTWERP, April 26.—Canada defeated the United States two goals to nothing in a hard-fought hockey game last night and today will meet Sweden in the final for the Olympic championship.

It was not until late in the second half that the Canadians were able to score against the Americans, who strove vainly all through the game to penetrate Canada's defense. It was a lightning hockey throughout, but the Americans were outplayed.

The Swedish hockey team defeated the French team yesterday afternoon, 4 to 0.

One of the French players had a long black beard, but was spry on his feet, as was also another Frenchman who was middle-aged and bald-headed.

The United States is not eliminated entirely from the tournament, but will have a chance to compete for second prize. According to the elimination system, the losers in the first prize finals will meet all teams beaten by the first prize winners in a contest for second prize.

CARPENTIER WILL JOIN CIRCUS MAY 20; NOT TO APPEAR IN THIS CITY

St. Louis probably will not get a chance to view George Carpentier, the European ring champion and aspirant to Jack Dempsey's title, at least not during his 70 days' tour with the Selis-Floto circus, now showing in this city.

According to an official of the company, Carpentier will not join the circus until May 10 at Washington and then only for a single day. His regular appearance with the show will start May 20, at Cleveland.

It is barely possible, it was stated today, that a return engagement may be booked here late in the season, as was the case last year; but at present this is not contemplated.

Carpentier will do a sparring stunt among other features, in his exhibition under the big tent. It is reported he will receive $2000 a day. Willard, it was given out, received $500 a performance, for two performances daily, and a bonus if the receipts surpassed a specific figure.

FANS THROW CUSHIONS; UMPIRE FORFEITS GAME

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 26.—After Louisville had defeated Indianapolis in the first game of a scheduled double-header here yesterday, 5 to 1, the second contest was forfeited to Louisville in the seventh inning, 9 to 0, by Umpire Finneran, when the Indianapolis fans threw cushions on the field.

At the time the game was forfeited Louisville had scored seven runs in the inning, with only 10 minutes more to play before the game would have been called in accordance with the 6 o'clock closing law.

AMERICAN SHOOTERS TO COMPETE IN ENGLAND

NEW YORK, April 26.—The trapshooting team which will represent America in the Olympic games will visit England to participate in the English championships July 15-17 before proceeding to Antwerp, it was announced yesterday. This is the result of an invitation cabled to the American trapshooting association by W. P. Grosvenor, a member of the English Olympic team. Plans have been made for the American team to sail from here July 3.

South Africa Starts Sail.

CAPE TOWN, South Africa, April 26.—A majority of the South African athletes who will compete in the Olympic at Antwerp sailed for Europe yesterday.

Inside Men Should Drink More Milk

Heavy foods often leave one heavy, mentally. When no great physical exertion is required during business hours, milk drunk at lunch, as the principle food, has no bad after-effects, and the mind is clear and active for the day's problems.

St. Louis Dairy Company's Milk is rich in those body and mind building properties that make for robust health and vitality.

St. Louis Dairy Company's Milk is pure milk, because exacting sanitary precaution from the dairy to the table guarantees it. This is of unusual importance to those who carefully guard their health.

Drink more milk. All the family should cultivate the habit, because good milk is good for young and old alike.

RAILROAD STOCKS ADVANCE; READING 9 POINTS HIGHER

Supreme Court Decision Will Not Materially Affect Properties, Street's Belief.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The Evening Post, in its copyrighted financial review today, says:

"An extremely confused movement of prices marked the beginning of the week. The industrial shares advanced sharply at the start, some of them being put up 5 to 16 points. From the high level thus attained there was a rapid downward reaction in the early afternoon, in which some industrial shares lost all the earlier advance. Then toward the close prices moved up again. It was the railway shares which today gave the more interesting account of themselves. All of these stocks advanced under moderately active trading, the gains amounting to a point or more in many of them. No special reason for the rise was visible, the only news of the day affecting the railways being the decision for the Government by the highest court in the long-pending antitrust suit against the Reading. That stock advanced more than 9 points.

"Ordinarily, the Supreme Court's decision against the Reading Co., apparently ordering disposal of the shares in the coal companies owned by that company and its subsidiary Central Railroad of New Jersey, would have affected the market adversely. The shares concerned broke 4 points when the suit was brought in 1913, and 5 points even when the District Court rendered in 1915, a decision much more favorable to the companies. But it could hardly be said that the news was directly reflected in any way in prices on the Stock Exchange. The present decision reasserts the restrictions of the antitrust law as applied to the Northern Securities case. But the decision, like the case itself, is complicated by numerous counter-considerations peculiar to the holding company in question. It is doubtful whether that company's existing situation will be actually altered by it. Possibly Wall Street, with its present idea that intrinsic values are increased by stock dividends, might even imagine that it would make money by a dissolution.

Sterling Exchange Declines.

"Sterling exchange declined more rapidly than on any recent day, touching $3.81½, as against $3.87¼ at last week's closing and $3.95 a week ago today. Apparently this reflected merely liquidation of real exchange bills, for there was no indication today of any other influence and the business done on this market was not heavy.

"Evidences of monetary strain at the Western and Southern banks, taken in connection with known credit conditions in those sections, were the most interesting thing about last week's combined statement of the Federal Reserve. At Cleveland, the cash ratio from 50.5 the week before to 47.4 per cent; Atlanta 47 to 43.8; Chicago 40.3 to 39.5; Minneapolis 43.9 to 40.7; Dallas 43.9 to 38.8, and San Francisco 43.4 to 40.8 per cent. The striking reversal of opinion as between the East and West is illustrated by the fact that the New York bank, which on May 14, owed $85,000,000 to other Federal institutions, now appears as a lender of $27,500,000 additional last week, its total rediscounts on this score amounting to $64,000,000.

"In spite of these loans, which ordinarily would impose a strain on the New York bank's reserves, that institution actually shows a gain of $38,000,000 in the central gold settlement fund, offset by a loss of only $5,000,000 elsewhere. This suggests a very heavy settlement of obligations owed to New York by the 'interior.' The Reserve Bank officials regard the movement as natural, under the circumstances. At this center, the cash ratio rose from 41.7 to 43.1 per cent. For the entire system, the ratio fell from 43.3 to 43 per cent as a result of a loss of $5,630,000 gold and an increase of $20,000,000 in deposits. The system's rediscounts, however, increased $67,000,000.

TRADING ON CURB HEAVIEST IN WEEK

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The trading on the Broad Street Curb was on a larger scale this morning than on any day last week, with accumulation of buying orders in a number of stocks, causing pronounced strength. The market, however, did not move in unison, some stocks being heavy, among them being Texas Pacific Coal and Iron, which dropped from 85 to 81. The heaviest trading was in Simms Petroleum, large blocks of that stock changing hands at an advance of 18¾ to 21 during the forenoon. International Petroleum wa salso active and strong, moving up from 30¾ to 40¼. Tropical oil sold at 18½ to 19. Dominion Oil continued to reflect the declaration of a stock dividend, being in demand with sales at 15⅜ to 15¼. There was good buying also in many of the low priced issues including Okalhoma and Texas, the trading in that stock being influenced by the belief that an increase in the dividend distribution is in prospect. General Asphalt showed a firmer tone, selling at 75 to 76½.

The market for Stutz Motors developed into one of trifles. During the forenoon one share sold at 460 and the stock was quoted at 460 to 475. Cuban-American Sugar did not move with the sugar group on the exchange, falling to 55½ with a rally to 58. Hercules Paper continued in firm demand, ranging from 31 to 31¼. British American Tobacco was also firm with sales at 21¼ to 21½. Indian Packing was steady, selling at 11⅝ to 11½. Rainier Motors was active. The statement was made that all of the Rainier Motor preferred stock recently offered to the public was quickly absorbed. Quotations in other issues were fairly well held and without special change shown in the market position.

The following is a list of the day's highest, lowest and closing prices for the most active stocks dealt in on the Broad street curb:

Money and Exchange.

NEW YORK, April 26.—The only feature of the foreign exchange market was the pronounced weakness in sterling, demand selling in the afternoon at 3.81½, a decline of over 4 cents. Business was extremely small on this downward movement, the rate yielding sharply without large transactions being made at any stage of the decline. French was weak in the morning, when checks sold at 17.12.

CORN PRICES ARE STRONG ON UNFAVORABLE WEATHER MAP

The grain markets opened the week on a very strong basis.

Initial corn pricesson the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange today extended to more than 3 cents above Saturday's closing quotations. This followed an upturn of 5 cents a bushel at Chicago.

Big export business of late in breadstuffs caused much of the buying.

The market soon ran into sales against offers and this caused a slight reaction. The upward swing was continued later as cash prices were deported strong. The upward range extended to 5½c over Saturday's close for corn and 2c over for oats. There were recessions from the high on profit-taking, but of only moderate character.

An unfavorable weather map was the dominating bull factor in the market. Wet weather was forecast for the corn belt. This will interfere further with farm work and movement of the grain from the country. While there has been improvement in the railroad strike situation it is far from being removed as a serious matter in the delivery of grain.

A strong tsock market due to a better financial situation in the Eastern city also helped bull sentiment along.

Local wheat receipts were 57,600 bushels compared with 45,600 last year. Corn receipts were 114,400 bushels against 93,600 last year and oats 90,000 against 184,000 bushels a year ago.

St. Louis Cash Grain.

The cash grain market was strong. Spot corn was 5½c higher and spit oats 2c higher.

No. 2 red winter wheat, $2.93; No. 2 corn, $1.78; No. 3, $1.74@1.77; No. 2 yellow, $1.81; No. 3 yellow, $1.79; No. 6 yellow, $1.68; No. 2 white, $1.80; No. 3 white, $1.77; No. 2 white oats, $1.12; No. 3 white, $1.11@$1.12; No. 2, $1.12.

CLOSING QUOTATIONS ON CHICAGO CORN STRONG

CHICAGO, April 26.—All grain ran up rapidly in price today on a 10c bulge in the rye market. Indications that a huge export business had been done of late in rye and wheat were largely responsible for the spectacular action of rye. Cold weather, certain to interfere with farm work at a critical time, counted also as a bullish factor and led to buying on large scale. Opening prices, which ranged from ½c to 4c higher, for corn, with May $1.71 and July $1.62 to $1.65, were followed by additional gains before any reaction took place.

Oats displayed independent strength as a result of reports that, because of excessive moisture and unseasonable temperatures, much reseeding would be necessary. After opening 1c to 2½c higher, including July at 89c to 89½c, the market continued firm.

Upturns in hogs and grain lifted provisions. Demand, however lacked volume.

The climbing price was finally checked by word that exporters had withdrawn from the market. Closing quotations, nevertheless, were strong, at 4⅞c net advance, with May $1.73 and July $1.65¾ to $1.66.

SHARP CHANGES IN GRAIN PRICES AT MINNEAPOLIS

MINNEAPOLIS, April 26.—Wild trading on the Minneapolis Grain Exchange today marked sharp changes in cash and future prices of grain, varying from 2c to 10c a bushel.

Unseasonable weather reports of heavy buying by foreign firms for export and unfavorable weather predictions caused one of the most excitable markets in years. Cash wheat went up 5c to 10c a bushel; rye passed the $2 mark for the first time this year; oats advanced from 2¼c to 3½c, and barley rose ½c to 6c.

Futures were a little easier this morning, but trading was light, with operators inclined to hold off and await developments. Sugar futures closed steady; sales, 650 tons; May, 17.80c; July, 18.05c; September, 18.10c; December, 17.25c.

RAINS STIMULATE THE ADVANCE IN NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, April 26.—The development of unfavorable weather conditions in the belt over Sunday led to a violent advance in the cotton market here during today's early trading. Cables were lower than due and the opening price was 10 points lower for May, but the tone was firm, with later months 17 to 55 points higher on active covering, inspired by the bullish weather and crop advices. July soon sold up to 38.80c and October to 35.45c, or 87 to 95 points above Saturday's closing. Showers in the Southwest were considered beneficial but cool rains in the central belt, with prospects that they would spread eastward, caused increased anxiety over the new crop outlook.

The market showed increasing strength after the publication of detailed weather reports which showed heavy rain in central belt sections, and the advance was stimulated by private reports of further rain east of the Mississippi. July sold up to $38.94 and October to $35.98, or 101 to 148 points net higher.

Realizing became more active around 38.90c for July and 35.98 for October, or about 97 to 118 points above Saturday's closing quotations. Reactions of 25 to 30 points followed, but trade interests were buyers, while there was continued covering and the market became less active but held generally steady during the early afternoon. A private cable from Liverpool reported a quiet market there, owing to dullness in Manchester. It also said that heavy traders were expected at the end of the month and that warehouse room was tight.

Spot cotton, steady; middling, 42c.

Cotton futures closed steady; May, 40.90c; July, 38.95c; October, 35.98c; December, 35c; January, 34.35c.

CROP SCARE CAUSES RISE IN COTTON AT NEW ORLEANS

By the Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, April 26.—Somewhat of a crop scare in the cotton market today caused a rise of more than $8 a bale on the strongest month in the contract market. December rose 168 points, to 34.98 cents a pound. Too much rain in some sections of the belt, too little in others, generally low temperatures, snow in parts of Oklahoma and a storm warning for the Texas coast were some of the things the market had to discount.

Liverpool Spot Cotton.

LIVERPOOL, April 26.—Cotton spot in limited inquiry; prices lower; good middling, 27.70d; fully middling, 26.70d; middling, 25.45d; low middling, 22.15d; good ordinary, 18.95d; ordinary, 17.95d; sales, 3000 bales, including 2700 American.

LIVESTOCK

NATIONAL STOCKYARDS, Ill., April 26.—Today's estimated livestock receipts: Cattle and calves, 2250; hogs, 9500; sheep, 500; horses and mules, 1100.

CATTLE—Bulk of the cattle sales made today averaged no better than steady with the close of last week. Run for the day was light in volume, although there were quite a few holdovers from Saturday. Calf top to city butchers was $14.

HOGS—Only 9500 hogs appeared to start the week's trade, according to the estimator's count. Early market was active, as shippers got in with fairly liberal orders, but these exhausted, the market lost most of its pep. Prices were generally 25@35c higher than Saturday's best time, with top at $15.85 and bulk of the good lights from $15.50@15.75. Medium to strong weights cleared from $14.50@15.10 and heavies from $14@14.50. Pigs ranged from $11@14.50 and roughs from $12@12.25.

SHEEP—Sheep and lamb market very quiet, with practically the entire run consigned direct. No choice lambs or sheep available.

HORSES—An easier undertone prevailed on the local horse market today at the opening. Receipts showed a material increase over those of last week and uncertainty again prevailed on shipping conditions.

MULES—Mule trade opened steady with a moderate run available. Demand was again for the larger types of animals.

Livestock Elsewhere

CHICAGO, April 26 (U. S. # ANSWERS TO QUERIES

AUNT S.—A 50 cent piece dated 1818 is worth from 50c to 55c.

M. M.—The Red River oil lands in dispute have an area of 30,000 acres.

A READER.—The daily newspapers in Tulsa, Ok., are the Democrat and the World.

H. H. H.—It would be advisable to consult a contractor about the concrete for your cellar floor.

A. M.—Write to the Board of Health, New York City, for confirmation of your husband's death.

MRS. R. S.—Perhaps continued boiling will finally remove the dye from your sheet.

T. B. S.—The Army Recruiting Station, Customs House, Ninth and Olive, will probably give you the information you desire.

AN HONEST CITIZEN.—If you will obtain a copy of the Post-Dispatch of April 17, you will find the particulars about the Postoffice employes.

F. M. FOX.—Russia now has the Soviet form of Government. The overthrown Government was a Monarchy. The Soviet Government and Bolshevism are identical.

1920.—Perhaps you can obtain the names of automobile owners through the Automobile License Department at the City Hall, or through the Secretary of States office, State House, Jefferson City, Mo.

A. M. WORRIED.—You must be over 12 years old to join the Boy Scouts. If you will write to the Scout Executive, Maj. Simmons, Chemical Building, he will tell you the headquarters of the scouts nearest your address and then you can apply there for membership.

B.—We cannot put illustrations in this column. If you will send in a stamped addressed envelope inclosing the puzzle, we will show you how it is done.

X. Y. Z.—The account of President Wilson's reception and speeches was printed in this paper Sept. 5 and 6. You might be able to obtain copies from the circulation department.

Q. E. D.—Perhaps a course in an art school is what you want. Write to the St. Louis School of Fine Arts, Washington University, and ask for a catalog, or go to see them and inquire. The "Passion Play" will not be given this year because of existing conditions, due to the war.

OLD READER.—White spots on polished tables are removed in the following manner: Coat the spot with oil and pour on a rag a few drops of "mixtura balsamica oleosa," which can be bought in almost any drug store, and rub on the spot, which will disappear immediately.

PAUL WIESLER.—Lee Meadows entered the National League Aug. 14, 1914. His record of games won is as follows: In 1915 he won 13, lost 11; 1916 won 12, lost 23; 1917 won 15, lost 9; 1918 won 8, lost 14. In 1919, midseason he was sold to Philadelphia, having won only one or two games for the Cardinals. His record for 1919 was 12 won and 20 lost.

LEGAL INFORMATION.

(Prepared by a Member of the St. Louis Bar Association.)

R. C. K.—If the husband obtained the divorce she cannot remarry for 2 years, in Illinois.

ELECTRA.—We believe that the tenant can legally remove the small shrubs which he has planted.

BARBARA.—Unless they are registered bonds they can be transferred by delivery of possession. No notary public is required.

J. S.—A maid in a hotel is not entitled to a minimum wage of $16.50, exclusive of her tips. There is no minimum wage law for women in Missouri.

WORRIED.—Report the four months intoxication of your husband in a dry town to the Collector of Internal Revenue, Customs House, Ninth and Olive streets. It is not unlawful for a taxi driver to enter the home of his "fare" if he is invited.

KATE.—If the real estate is owned by the husband and wife as joint tenants and not as tenants in common, on the death of one it will go to the other without a will. The relatives will be entitled to a share of stocks and bonds owned by the husband, if there is no will.

MRS. M. M. M.—Attention is called to the amendment of the adoption law which now requires a process through petition to the Juvenile Court, and not by an acknowledged deed of adoption filed with the Recorder.

DISTRESSED WIFE—If your husband has taken your engagement ring and sold it you can have him arrested if you want to. A woman is always entitled to have her husband support her if he is able to work. You can buy real estate and have the title placed in a trustee for you, then your husband cannot get any of the proceeds.

TROUBLED DAYS.—You can garnish his wages for the money you lent him. If you are under 18 you may be able to force him to marry you, by threatening him with prosecution. If you are over 18 and consented, and he did not promise to marry you, you cannot do anything, but your father can sue him, and the threat of such a suit might be enough to induce him to marry you. We do not give business addresses in this column. Consult the telephone or the city directory.

MEDICAL QUESTIONS.

(Answers prepared by a physician of authority. Health and sanitation questions of public interest only will be considered. Diagnoses on treatment of individual cases will not be given. Questions that cannot be publicly discussed, if showing evidences of sincerity, will be answered when accompanied by stamped envelope.)

K. E.—You can have the operation performed at any of the surgical clinics of the dispensaries or at the city hospital.

STUDENT.—We have not the information about the hospitals you mentioned. Write to the institutions referred to and they will doubtless inform you.

A. B. C.—The urine test for nephritis is done in this manner: Place a small quantity of urine in a test tube and warm it. Inclining the tube to an angle of 45 degrees carefully pour nitric acid down the tube into the liquid. If albumen is present a distinct white ring will be formed. The nitric acid should be handled very carefully as it is dangerous.

THANK YOU.—We have not the formula you mention for making the hair natural wavy. This is eczema of the scalp. In the pustular variety, particularly in children, cod liver oil, iron, or other tonic measures are often of value. Remove crust by soaking in olive oil or some bland oil; avoid poultices. In children clip the hair. Acute, that is inflammatory conditions require soothing applications, such as one per cent carbolic acid in sweet oil, or oil of sweet almonds, or bismuth subnitrate, one dram to one ounce of vaseline. In young infants, or where the hair is cut close unguentum vaseline plumbicum spread on strips of muslin and held in place by a snug fitting cap is valuable. After the inflammation subsides use unguentum picis liquidae one dram, tuic oxide one dram to one ounce unguentum aq. rosae. Spread on strips of cloth and change twice daily. Swelling of the feet and ankles is only a symptom suggestive of some organic lesion. Have a careful examination especially of the heart and kidneys.

NOTICE TO WANT ADVERTISERS

CHANGE IN RATES

Effective Saturday, May 1, 1920

Because of the continued world-wide shortage of newsprint paper at advancing prices, and the steadily mounting costs of everything entering into the making of a newspaper, it becomes necessary to make a slight advance in the Post-Dispatch Real Estate and Want rates, effective May 1st.

The following schedule, adopted for this emergency, gives the Post-Dispatch advertisers a distinct advantage over those in other metropolitan cities, where rates are now from 20% to 100% higher.

ANNOUNCEMENT—We take pride in announcing a new subdivision known as Beverly Hills, located on the highest spot in St. Louis County, at Natural Bridge and the Lucas and Hunt roads. Beverly Hills has real transportation, the Ferguson car passing the property on the north, the Lucas and Hunt car on the west, the Natural Bridge car is to be extended to Normandy. Beverly Hills has ideal surroundings; the Ridgedale Country Club is directly opposite; Glen Echo Park is opposite, Ridgedale Park adjoins. Beverly Hills has some of the finest homes in St. Louis surrounding the location. 150 bungalows will be built. Real California exteriors, planned by men who know what you want. Beverly Hills will have all improvements. Remember this fact: There are only 200 sites in Beverly Hills. These will be sold in a very short time. 150 bungalows will make this the one real homesite in St. Louis. Beverly Hills has real restrictions, real wide, deep lots, with a large building line. Beverly Hills is a short walk from the new loop at Kienlen av. Beverly Hills is to be a real success. We will arrange to build you a bungalow on your own terms. Come in and look at the plans. As an investment Beverly Hills will surpass anything ever offered in St. Louis. The price is right. The possibilities are right. Remember, it's the location. St. Louis is growing one way, that is west. Beverly Hills lies in the path of the westward growth of St. Louis. If you really want to make money, Beverly Hills is the place to do it. If you want to own a home, Beverly Hills is the place to own it. We have prepared one of the greatest pieces of literature ever issued on a subdivision. It is yours for the asking. Come out today, we will have automobiles at Natural Bridge and Union all day. Thomas A. Knobeloch, Harry E. Prettyman, 721 Chestnut. Olive 3003, Central 2257. (c6)

NOTICE OF SPECIAL BOND ELECTION

MAY 11, 1920

Pursuant to Ordinance No. 30608, approved February 6, 1920, we, the undersigned, hereby give notice that there will be a special bond election held on Tuesday, May 11, 1920, at the various polling places of the City of St. Louis, Missouri, between the hours of 6:00 a. m. and 7:00 p. m. of said day, at which time there will be submitted to the qualified voters of the City of St. Louis, Missouri, for their approval or rejection, the propositions contained in said ordinance, which ordinance is in words and figures as follows:

ORDINANCE 30608

An ordinance to provide for the holding of an election for the purpose of submitting eighteen different propositions to the voters of the City of St. Louis, for the incurring of indebtedness and the issuance of Bonds of the said City, not exceeding the aggregate sum of Twenty-four Million Dollars; to determine the respective amounts and the respective public purposes for which the proceeds of the sale of such bonds shall be used; to state the different propositions which are to be submitted to the voters of the said City and the respective amounts for each of them; and to provide that any one or more of the said propositions shall be adopted if two-thirds of the voters of the said City voting thereon shall have assented thereto; with an emergency clause.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY OF ST. LOUIS, AS FOLLOWS:

SECTION ONE

An election shall be held in the City of St. Louis, on Tuesday, the eleventh day of May, nineteen hundred twenty. At said election there shall be submitted to the qualified voters of the City of St. Louis, the various propositions as hereinafter set out to issue bonds of the City of St. Louis in the amounts and for the specific purposes respectively as hereinafter stated, numbered from One to Eighteen, both inclusive.

SECTION TWO

Notice of said election shall be given by publication of this ordinance for four times in the City Journal, once each week for four weeks, and in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, St. Louis Star, St. Louis Times, Westliche Post and Amerika, four times in each; i. e., once each week, the last publication to be within two weeks of the date of said election. Proofs of each of said publications shall be filed with the City Register.

SECTION THREE

The Board of Election Commissioners shall provide the ballots, shall conduct the election as required by law, shall designate and provide a polling place in each election precinct in said City, and shall certify the result thereof, according to law, to the Board of Aldermen of the City of St. Louis. The ballots to be used at the said election shall be in the following form:

WOMAN IN AUTO KILLED ON WAY TO FUNERAL

Machine Overturns on Road in County—Husband Had Learned to Drive Last Tuesday.

Mrs. Allie H. Harmon, 25 years old, of Granite City, was killed at 7:45 a. m. yesterday when an automobile driven by her husband, James E. Harmon, was overturned on the Manchester road near the Allenton road in St. Louis County, when they were on their way to attend the funeral of Harmon's brother-in-law at Sullivan, Mo. Harmon and their 3-year-old daughter were thrown clear of the car and escaped with slight injuries.

Coroner Denny, who held an inquest shortly afterward at which a verdict of accident was returned, told a Post-Dispatch reporter today that Harmon, who had owned the car only since last Tuesday and had not driven an automobile before that time, apparently lost control of the machine, which ran into a small ditch alongside the road. In a car directly following were Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Harmon, brother-in-law and sister of the woman killed.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE.

MR. LONG'S FEDERALISM.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

In a talk on April 13 at his dinner at the Planters Hotel, Breckinridge Long said, speaking of the eighteenth amendment:

"I believe that there are certain residuary powers in the states not delegated to the Federal Government in the exercise of which each state can define for itself an intoxicant, provided always the letter and spirit of the Constitutional amendment are observed."

Let us see about these "certain residuary powers in the states," he mentions. Whether or not the Federal prohibition amendment has deprived these states of any right can be determined by the simplest of all mental processes—an easy comparison between what was and what is. All men admit that before the Federal prohibition amendment was adopted every state in the Union had a right to authorize its citizens to manufacture and sell liquor; and since the adoption of the prohibition amendment all men must admit no state in this Union has a right to authorize its citizens to manufacture and sell liquor; and no man will deny that this radical change is due entirely to the Federal prohibition amendment. How, then, can Mr. Long have the effrontery to tell us that Federal prohibition has not deprived any state of this right? He seems to have fallen into a hopeless confusion of ideas and when you analyze his contention—for I will not dignify it by calling it an argument—it comes to this: That if you can take away the rights of the state by amending the Constitution, you have not taken them away at all. The argument is so transparently illogical that you would have a right to doubt it were it not published in black and white as being advanced by Mr. Long and many others of equal ability, but less reputation.

Mr. Long reverses himself, for in the beginning of his statement he says, "the constitutional amendment providing for prohibition is a fact and at the present time is the supreme law of the land." When Mr. Long makes this statement and in the next breath asks you to believe that these states have not been deprived of a right simply because it was taken from them by a constitutional amendment he cannot have much respect for our intelligence and we cannot have much respect for his sincerity. He might stand up like a man and meet the question. It will impeach his democracy, of course, for him to confess that he deliberately favors the violation of the rights of these states but he cannot mitigate his guilt by entering a plea that affronts common sense and compels us to distrust his candor. Let him boldly renounce the faith of his fathers and without faltering with his intellect or our intelligence declare a contempt for those who support the doctrine of states' rights.

As a lifelong Democrat, I protest against the Federalism insidiously preached by Mr. Long.

Price of Rough Lumber.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Referring to your editorial in Wednesday's paper, "When Will Building Costs Decline?" I think you will find, with thorough investigation, that the alleged increase of over 400 per cent in the cost of "rough lumber" is exaggerated by something over 200 per cent, so far as St. Louis is concerned. You will also find that there has been a considerable decline in wholesale lumber prices within the last 60 days, and that the situation is not so appalling as indicated in the editorial.

Relative to the amount that can now be borrowed on property, as compared with six years ago, it is quite evident that the investors realize the fact that real estate is on a false valuation, and must be readjusted to something within reason.

AN INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

A Nearer Evil.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

Mrs. Fiske's plea for fur animals will find an echo in the heart of every decent man and woman. May I call attention to another and nearer evil? There are large train yards in Hannibal, Mo., and much livestock is shipped over this route. Cattle take their misfortune quietly, unless suffering from hunger and thirst, and when a carload of cattle are noisy, you may be sure that their suffering is intense. Sunday night I went to my room about 8 o'clock. Behind the hotel the lowing of cattle sounded from at least two cars at regular intervals. This continued until 2 o'clock. There was no mistaking the misery in those cries, which continued for at least six hours. The cattle in those cars had not been watered or fed for many hours, and were probably due for many hours' more of wretchedness. Moreover, they were beside the river, and smelled the water. Of course, there are laws; but if the public opinion which forces legislation proceeds to lie back and doze after the laws are enacted, who will see that the laws are enforced?

Of course, they were only bewildered, frightened, thirsty and starving cattle, but it seems as if some of us well-fed, comfortable and thoroughly selfish eaters of flesh might do something to ease their suffering, if we would bestir ourselves.

MR. GOMPERS' PROTEST.

The criticism of Congress by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, voices organized labor's dissatisfaction with the railroad law, but beyond that embodies solid truth which calls for serious thought and action on the part of the American people as a whole.

At the outset we may say that one of Mr. Gompers' warnings is as applicable to labor as to other elements of citizenship. "Democracy," he says, "must be equality of opportunity. It must be the sovereignty of the masses. It must mean absence of domination by a select ruling class or caste or clique."

In this matter organized labor has not been sinless in the very respect with which it charges the powerful capitalist element with offense. The use of the general strike or the threat of the general strike to control legislation or governmental policy is as unjustifiable and even more dangerous than the use of power and influence by special interests, because it is destructive of the entire economic and industrial system and results, not only in chaos, but in unmeasurable hardships. It is a prelude to disorder. This is the weapon of Bolshevism and the mad orgies of economic revolution which have brought ruin upon parts of Europe. It is the substitution of force and violence for reason and the ballot box in government, and is the effort to set the interest of one class above all the people in both Government and industry. It is the most menacing movement in radical labor organizations against our economic life.

Mr. Gompers is right in declaring that democracy means equality and the sovereignty must rest with all the people over all classes, castes and cliques.

He is right also in protesting against the reactionary movement of powerful forces to restrict liberty and opportunity, which is finding strong support in Congress and State Legislatures. Nothing is more dangerous to the public welfare than a policy of restriction which attacks the freedom of thought, expression and action of the masses of people in the vain effort to restrain legitimate liberty by force, to cripple opportunity and control government for the benefit of a few.

Mr. Gompers is right in pointing to the failure of the peace treaty as an illustration of the policy of the dominating party in Congress to disregard the public welfare for special interests and ends and to check and destroy, rather than to construct and progress. His indictment of the Senate for failing to deal intelligently with the peace treaty is strong and convincing. "America," he says, with a far-sighted wisdom which would become congressional leaders, "cannot play forever the part of a peevish child in international relations. With proper limits, the affairs of the world are the concern of the United States."

His protest against the efforts of predatory interests to involve the United States in war with Mexico to the advantage of special interests is well taken. Congressional inaction, combined with obstruction on important and pressing subjects and with reaction in vital principles of American liberty has hampered the energies and resources of the country and has distracted the people.

While disagreeing with Mr. Gompers on some points, all citizens should approve his demand for a Congress "which will turn its face to the task confronting the American citizenship in the true spirit of American institutions" and the substitution of "a constant genius for accomplishment" for an "ill-considered mania for restriction and coercion."

If the men higher up violate sound American principles and support destructive policies, what can be expected of the masses?

THE TURKISH FINANCIAL PROBLEM.

It is announced that the Interallied Supreme Council, sitting at San Remo, Italy, has settled the financial clauses in relation to Turkey, but no outlines of the settlement has been made public. Whatever the settlement may be, we may be certain it was no small problem that confronted the council.

As in Egypt, finances in Turkey have for years been more or less under the supervision of the great Powers for the protection of private bankers who are creditors. In 1854 Turkey contracted her first foreign loan and followed this with others at short intervals until her debt reached a billion dollars. In 1875 the Government confessed its inability to pay interest, nor was any paid till 1881, when the bondholders, backed by their Governments, brought about a consolidation of the debt and took over the administration of the excise revenue of the empire. At the outbreak of the great war the debt had been reduced to about $600,000,000.

Up to 1908 Turkish revenues, other than the excise taxes, hypothecated for the benefit of the foreign debt, were appropriated with the same prodigality and lack of business system which characterizes the action of our Congress in such matters, with a consequent annual deficit of from $50,000,000 to $100,000,000. In that year, however, a budget law was put into effect, with helpful results. During the war the Turkish debt rose over $800,000,000, due to advances from Germany, which, of course, is wiped out to the extent that it is not secured. The amount of security, however, is only about $25,000,000 in gold deposited with Germany and Austria, which, by the terms of the treaty of Versailles, must be turned over to the victors.

Turkey's revenue has been derived from tithes, land and property taxes, customs, sheep and cattle tax and the tobacco monopoly. If Turkey in Asia is to be split up into small independent states, it is fair to suppose that a part of the Turkish debt would be transferred to them in the proportion that their revenues bear to those of the former empire. Whether Syria, Hedjaz, Armenia and other possible states in Asia Minor will readily yield to such suggestions is another matter.

The situation is further complicated by the presence of about $400,000,000 in paper currency in Turkey, issued during the war and redeemable in gold at various periods running from six months to 10 years after the peace. The practical impossibility of meeting these conditions will make a German mark look like a gold dollar in comparison with the value of these notes.

It is not improbable that in the internationalization of the Dardanelles a source of revenue may be found in tonnage dues and tolls which can, temporarily at least, be applied to the foreign debt. Such a project would involve a departure from the principle forbidding the operation of international straits for profit, but in a desperate situation it might be acquiesced in for a time.

AMNESTY FOR POLITICAL OFFENDERS.

An appeal has recently been made to the President by a group of prominent men and women for the granting of amnesty to all persons still held in Federal prisons on account of political offenses. In this category would probably fall violations of the draft act, the espionage act, the sabotage act and other like war measures. What the views of the President are on the matter is not disclosed, but it is quite certain that public opinion has become receptive toward the suggestion.

The benign prerogative of pardon is lodged with the President by the Constitution and may be exercised in his discretion, specially or generally. Following all of the more serious crises in our history, it has been resorted to as a salutary agency in the healing of the social and political body. Washington used it in granting pardon to the Tories of his day, and in December, 1868, Andrew Johnson issued a general proclamation in behalf of those convicted of political offenses growing out of the Civil War. This proclamation granted "unconditionally and without reservation to all and every person who directly or indirectly participated in the late insurrection or rebellion, a full pardon and amnesty for the offense of treason against the United States, or of adhering to their enemies during the late Civil War, with restoration of all rights, privileges and immunities under the Constitution and the laws which have been made in pursuance thereof."

The effect of this proclamation was held by the Supreme Court to give validity to the claims of former disloyal citizens for the recovery of their property, taken under the captured and abandoned property act, who would otherwise have had no standing in court.

When it is considered that Congress is seriously considering the repeal of all war laws and that this will probably be done in the near future, it appears somewhat illogical to persist in the enforcement of penalties after the laws authorizing them have ceased to exist. We may have little sympathy personally with some of the victims of these laws, but many of them deserve the credit, at least, of pursuing steadfast convictions in the face of known consequences, of accepting suffering for what they believed to be principle.

D'Annunzio's officers are so loyal to their chief that they have shaved their heads to appear as baldheaded as he is and are raising Vandyke beards. We should expect large outputs of poetry from Gen. d'Annunzio's staff before long.

TYPICAL TECHNIQUE OF A SPY SYSTEM.

Federal Judge Anderson of Boston declared from the bench that he had found evidence showing that the Government "clearly operates some part of the Communistic party in this country." What he meant was that Government agents have gone to outrageous lengths for the purpose of incriminating unwary persons as having culpable identification with Communistic and Socialistic groups. These agents have promoted meetings and other activities of reputed Communistic quality in order to give themselves ground for bringing charges against those whom they might ensnare into participating.

A spy system invariably brings just such results, whether it is an odious Federal spy system in America, operating under the espionage law or the prohibition law, or a spy system in Prussia under the Pan-German militarists or in Czaristic Russia or under a Turkish despotism. The usual officers of justice have in this country an accountability to the people of fixed units and subdivisions in the administration of the law. They must answer to a comparatively small and watchful portion of the public for improper conduct. The spy has responsibility to no one except his bureaucratic masters. A scandalized or outraged public has a long route to travel before it can reach him and visit on him the consequences of misdeeds.

Judge Anderson has made an exposure of conditions of reproach the American people had a right to know about.

The musicians are demanding a 40 per cent increase in pay for playing in theater orchestras. Being compelled to sit through nine performances of some of the shows seen here this season probably influenced the musicians in making their demand.

THE LATIN CITADEL.

(These verses, written by a teacher of Latin, were read at a convention of the Classical Association of the Middle West and South recently held at Cleveland, O.)

BEHOLD, a parable I bring you,
Of Roman Manlius I sing you,
Who kept the Latin citadel
And yet contrived to slumber well.
Not even setting a Big Ben
(Alarms were not invented then)
Cool as a cucumber, I wis,
Then quaintly termed the cucumis.

But, lest you think him negligent,
On every last precaution bent,
Before he went to hit the hay
He set the geese for break of day;
Waked by their intermittent cackle
He sallied out and made his tackle,
Spilling the giddy Gauls in rows
Like silly little dominoes.

Now we that keep the Roman creed,
Like him, can take our nap at need,
And though the enemy be near,
We need no geese inside.

This is the secret I disclose,
The augurs of our hated foes
Are impotent in war or peace
Without a following of geese.
They never stir in peace or war
But what a cackle goes before,
A kind of hail-the-gang's-all-here
Columbia Teachers' College cheer.

Coached by the clamors of this claque
They sacrifice surprise attack,
And while these birds are with them still
They shall not storm our Sacred Hill.

There was nothing very surprising about the statement somewhere in our paper the other day that a venerable woman who recently died had lived here for 981 years, since it must seem like that to people who live here a long time and still never see anything amounting to very much done. We have thought that must have been the explanation of the story about Methusaleh—not that he lived any longer than other people, but that it seemed longer to him because he had aspirations for the community in which he lived and never saw any of them realized. The years of men decreased after Noah, who was probably the first man to realize that human progress is not ordered but made. Life has never seemed so long to us since. Methusaleh and his sort evidently lived about the Garden of Eden. Their nearness to such an ideal no doubt fired their own ideals, and they thought they lived centuries waiting for these to be realized. Noah's was the time of disillusionment. It has been the same always, but it seemed different when, as they say around universities, we were kidding ourselves.

A writer in the Atlantic Monthly tells us now that neither the manufacturer nor the retailer is profiteering, high prices having their cause in swollen credits under the Federal bank system, where also the remedy lies and is already being applied. We are glad to know about it. Maybe it is too late to save most of us, but we shall at least have the satisfaction of knowing what hit us.

A SUBMARINE.

BORN in the shops of a devil
Designed by the brains of a fiend,
Filled up with acid and crude oil
And christened a submarine.

The poets send in their ditties
Battleships aspick and clean,
But never a word in their columns
Do you see of a submarine.

So I will endeavor to tell you
In a very laconic way,
So please have patience to listen
Until I have finished my say.

We eat where we can find it
And sleep hanging on hooks;
Conditions under which we are existing
Were never published in books.

Life on these boats is obnoxious,
And that is using mild terms;
We are never bothered by sickness—
There is no room for germs.

We are never troubled with varmints;
There are things a cockroach can't stand
And any self-respecting rodent
Quick as possible beats it for land.

And the little one dollar per dive
We receive to submerge out of sight
Is often earned more than double
By charging batteries all night.

And that extra compensation
Disappearing boats like these
We never really get at all;
It is spent on soap and dungarees.

Machinists get soaked in fuel oil,
Electricians in H2 and SO4,
Gunners' mate in 600W
And torpedo slush galore.

When we come into the navy yards
We are looked upon with disgrace
And they make some new regulations
To fit our particular case.

Now all your battleship sailors,
When you feel disgusted and mean,
Just pack up your bag and hammock
And ship on a submarine.

THE VERSAILLES TREATY.

BARON EUGENE DE SCHELKING in Leslie's.

THE allies preferred to follow the principles of humanity and accepted the 14 points of Wilson, but soon perceived that, if following them to the letter, they risked to lose the fruits of their victory, and a system of compromises, more or less fortunate, replaced the idealistic program of Wilson. And for this reason they took care not to use the principle of self-determination of nationality in regard to Ireland, Egypt, Germany and Austria, but hurried to apply the principle in regard to Esthonia, Lithuania, Armenia, Asarbeidjan, Georgia and other provinces of the old Russian Empire, which latter did no longer exist, and consequently could not defend itself against its dismemberment. This was also the case with Italy's problems, which were partly based on the principles of nationalism, but also on secret agreements contrary to the Wilson program. It is clear that such a treaty would cause complications, but the actual developments have exceeded any pessimistic anticipations. America's part in the matter is clear. Having completed the destruction of Prussian militarism and thus having attained its goal, it has for itself, not being desirous of territorial acquisition nor monetary considerations, the beautiful task to mitigate hatred and to make victorious the principles of humanity for which the great trans-oceanic republic went into the war. And if these disinterested principles should meet with insurmountable objections from the former allies, the United States might put down the cards, and it would be egotistical Europe which would bear the consequences.

AMERICAN TRADE WITH RUSSIA.

From the New Republic.

WASHINGTON dispatches, presumably inspired, announce that the Government has in contemplation the lifting of the ban upon trade with Soviet Russia. Recognition is not implied. All that such action would mean is that Americans who wish to trade in Russia might try their luck. If their goods were confiscated or their agents thrown into prison, the Government could take no cognizance of it. That, however, is about all the advocates of ending the blockade are asking for. It is more than the French Government wishes us to grant, until the Soviet Government has acknowledged the validity of French claims upon the old Russian Government and its nationals. The value of those claims may be placed at between four and five billions of dollars—enough to stiffen the policy of a country less hard pressed financially than France.

CHAUVINISM IN LITTLE COUNTRIES.

From the Review.

LITTLE countries, as if infected by their great neighbors, are susceptible to fits of chauvinism and expansion. Belgium suffered from one when, after the armistice, it demanded annexation of Dutch territory. Now Denmark has succumbed to the contagion. To do justice to the population of both countries, it must be admitted that those who come forward with such claims form only a small, but vociferous minority, consisting mostly of political hotheads and wealthy capitalists, whose interests would be promoted by territorial expansion. In Denmark this group acquired greater importance than its counterpart in Belgium by its finding favor with the court. But the satisfaction of their demands depended on factors over which they had no control; those of the Belgians were submitted to an impartial conference of diplomats in Paris, and the Danish claims to the inhabitants of the disputed area. In neither case was the verdict to the satisfaction of the chauvinists.

THE MONSTER

By Vicente Blasco Ibanez

II.

THEN the war came. One of its first effects was to distend the eyes of the younger Mme. Delfour with an expression of immense surprise.

"Is this calamity possible?" she complained. "Why should we have a war, now that people are enjoying themselves more than ever?"

While Odette seemed to shrink, surprised and frightened by the reality of war, her mother-in-law grew visibly, shedding her former reserve and humility. She began to examine persons and things with a serious eagerness, as if she had not seen them for a long time and was making an effort to recognize them again. What she now saw was not entirely new to her. She had exchanged the first whispers of love with her departed in 1870, during the siege of Paris. Later, as a bride, she had lived through the horrors of the commune. She knew war, knew but too well its meanings and demands. That was why she was facing it unflinchingly, without false illusions, without deceiving herself.

At first Odette welcomed with a joy verging on enthusiasm the changes caused by the war in the habits of the nation. The war had brought her some agreeable surprises, as if it had been a great, unexpected festival. And of all the unexpected joys, the sweetest was the sudden transformation of her husband. She saw Maurice in a new light, as a new man who was bringing her a second springtime of love. He was another husband. She thought she had married a mere stylish man, and now she found herself the wife of a warrior. The military uniform enhanced the manly traits which she had admired in him.

The proud Delfour wished to enter the air service, but aviation was not a success at the beginning of the war; it was then in a rudimentary stage, and Maurice, who did not care to remain idle in a training camp, decided in favor of the artillery, where he would have a chance to get into action at once.

When Odette was most enthusiastic about her husband, contemplating him as a future hero, Maurice was ordered to the front and had to leave her.

After the departure of her husband, Odette, to escape her loneliness, decided to do something useful for her country. All her friends were visiting the hospitals and taking short medical courses to qualify as nurses. She followed their example, planning to perform sublime deeds of abnegation, but inwardly admiring at the same time the white uniforms of the nurses, their blue cloaks and white toques, a simple and original dress, entirely distinct from those others which ate up a fortune every year; something plain, cool and comfortable, which suited perfectly her blonde type of beauty. The desire to exhibit this last fashion, a war product, as she had paraded until recently the most expensive creations of famous Parisian tailors, caused her to neglect her patients time and again. She could not help it; she had to drive through the Bois de Boulogne to show the world her white dress with red crosses on the breast and sleeves.

Meanwhile, the elder Mme. Delfour, in her usual plain black dress, spent her days and her nights in a hospital which she was largely supporting.

Despite the sorrow and anxiety which her husband's absence caused her, Odette confessed that war had its pleasures and its compensations. She adored now the teas attended by women only, where she was free from those tiresome men who bore one to death with their gallantries. None of her friends showed any interest in the expensive clothes which had been the object of their illusions and desires before the war. All wore white, plain white, dresses, like nursemaids in a summer resort, and they welcomed with pride the envious looks cast at them by other less fortunate women who could not wear the Red Cross uniform. They knitted garments for the soldiers in these teas, and although their work was awkwardly done, they went about it with a self-assurance, as if they had done nothing else all their lives, as if they had not been taught to do it a few weeks before by their own maids. Their conversation on matters of feminine interest was interrupted by inquiries about their absent husbands.

"My husband is fighting in Alsace," one would say, by way of introduction, "and Monsier Delfour, where is he?"

M. Delfour was fighting on the Belgian front. And his wife would give out this important piece of information with a proud look. She would then recite with affected modesty his martial exploits. He had been cited twice. He had been decorated. He wore an extra stripe on his sleeve.

But the most stupendous exploits counted for little in this war. All men were brave. Heroes dropped from the sky. Odette had to make an effort to hide her disappointment when she found that all the other women could tell the same story about their husbands. How annoying to be unable to excel them in any way!

One day the sumptuous mansion in Monceau Park seemed to shake from the cellar, where the kitchen and servants' quarters were located, to the top floor, occupied by Maurice's mother, as if the old house had an emotional fit. The disturbance was caused by a terrible nervous attack of the younger Mme. Delfour, accompanied by tears, the slamming of doors, the arrival of automobiles and the hurried visits of several doctors. Lieut. Delfour had been seriously wounded by the explosion of a shell.

Odette wished to rush to her husband's side. The elder Mme. Delfour had to make great efforts and call to her assistance the oldest family friends to convince her daughter-in-law that what she wanted to do was impossible. Women were not allowed at the front.

Then Odette wanted to die. Meanwhile, her mother-in-law remained erect, silent, pale, biting her lips to keep her eyes dry.

After the first painful impression had passed and Odette began to meet her intimate friends again, she felt a keen satisfaction. None of these women could now compare with her. "Maurice is wounded, seriously wounded," she would say with feigned modesty.

Her friends admired her with a certain envy, feeling sorry at the same time for that husband, once so fascinating, now so cruelly handled by war.

As her superiority over the other women was due entirely to the fact that Maurice had been wounded more seriously than their husbands, Odette became reconciled to the gravity of Lieut. Delfour's wounds, and she even felt hurt whenever any of her friends tried to minimize their seriousness. Frequently, when she was alone and her thoughts strayed off toward the absent one, she wondered what sort of wounds they could be. No one had described them. All her friends and relatives mentioned them without going into details. They were mysterious wounds, about which all felt the deepest concern, without having seen them.

Odette, in her dreams about the future, saw Maurice slightly lame, leaning on a cane with one hand and with the other resting on his wife's arm. They would make an interesting couple. She was almost glad of this small physical defect, which would be a proof of his heroism. It would make him more fascinating. The future held in reserve for them many happy hours. And she would take care of her poor, wounded husband; she would protect him; she would be to him a loving wife and a tender mother.

One afternoon, as she sauntered down the Rue Royle, she met a very young Second Lieutenant, almost a child, walking with his sweetheart; one of the sleeves of his uniform hung by his side, empty. Undoubtedly Maurice had lost an arm, too; she was sure of it. That's why his brief letters, in which she detected an effort, a strained, painful effort, to appear cheerful, were always dictated. He was forced to dictate them because he had not recovered sufficiently to write them himself. Yes, there was no doubt about it; Maurice had lost an arm, like that poor boy. But it made no difference to her. He could lean on his wife. She had two arms to take the place of the one he lost. The important thing was to be able to look into his face once more and to see herself in those clear, caressing, humorously ironical eyes of his. Ah, her poor, wounded dear, her hero! How she loved him!

Her intimate friends received her always with the same question: "How is Monsieur Delfour? Are his wounds better?"

"Better; much better. He will be in Paris soon," she always replied with assurance, although she had no definite news and her mother-in-law tried to avoid all conversation about her son.

Months passed. Letters and more letters continued to arrive, written by strange hands, but claiming to have been dictated by Maurice. The mother, concealing her uneasiness from the younger woman, questioned the old family friends, gentlemen of grave demeanor, who undoubtedly were withholding something from her, and who evaded all long discussions about the matter.

"He received many wounds," they told the old lady. "He narrowly escaped death, but he is out of danger now. Be brave, madame. The important things is to save his life."

LOVE LETTERS OF THE CZARINA

TO THE CZAR IN WAR TIME

By ISAAC DON LEVINE.

France Objects to Peace Reports.

PALEOLOGUE, the French Ambassador to Russia, became uneasy over the persistent reports of a separate peace between Russia and Germany, and had a long talk on the subject with Grand Duke Paul, who took it up with Czarina. Paul also communicated to the Empress the startling information that Gen. Danilov, attached to the main army headquarters, was a spy. The Czarina informed Paul in return that reports of separate peace negotiations between Germany and France had reached the Czar and that he contemplated no such peace for Russia, knowing that it would mean revolution.

The fight against Rasputin is growing stronger in this installment. For once at least we see the Czarina and monk beaten, their opposition to the appointment of Samarin as procurator of the holy synod having been ignored by the Czar. Of course, they ousted Samarin a few weeks later. Other ministerial posts were given to enemies of Rasputin. For a while it was getting uncomfortable for the monk. "Russia will not be blest if her sovereign lets a man of God, sent to help him, be persecuted." Thus the Czarina. She sends to her husband from Rasputin a stick as a blessing, to be preserved alongside "the one Mr. Phillips touched." A little later she adds, "Be more autocratic, my very own sweetheart; show your mind."

Discusses Separate Peace Reports.

"June 14, 1915.

"My own beloved Nicky:

"So many thanks for your dear telegram. Poor Darling, even on Sunday a council of ministers! We had a nice drive to Pavlosk, coming back little Georgi on his small motor (like Alexis') flew into our carriage, but luckily he did not upset and his machine was not spoiled. Paul came to tea and remained 1¾ hours; he was very nice and spoke honestly and simply meaning well, not wishing to meddle with what does not concern him, only asking all sorts of things which I now repeat to you, with his knowledge. Well, to begin with, Palelogue dined with him a few days ago and then they had a long private talk and the latter tried to find out from him, very cleverly, whether he knew if you had any idea about forming a separate peace with Germany, as he had heard such things being spoken about here, and as tho in France one had got wind of it and that there they intend fighting to the very end. Paul answered that he was convinced it was not true, all the more as at the outset of the war we and our allies had settled that peace could only be concluded together on no account separately. Then I told Paul that you had heard the same rumor about France, and he crossed himself when I said you were not dreaming of peace and knew it would mean a revolution here and therefore the Germans trying to egg us on. He said he had heard even the German mad conditions posed to us. I warned him he would next hear that I am wishing peace to be concluded.

"Then he asked me whether it was true that Stcheglovitov was being changed and that rotten Matokhin named in his place. I said I knew nothing, which is the truth, and neither why Stcheglovitov has chosen the moment now to go to the Soloviev monastery. Then he mentioned another thing to me which, though painful, it's better to warn you about, namely, that since six months one speaks of a spy being at the headquarters, and when I asked the name, he said Gen. Canilov (the black one), that from many sides one has told him this 'feeling,' and that now in the army one speaks about it. Lovy mine, Voyekov is sly and clever; talk to him about this, and let him slyly and cleverly try and have an eye upon the man and his doings. Why not have him watched. Of course, as Paul says, one has the spy mania now, but as things are at once known abroad, which only very well initiated people at the headquarters can know, this strong doubt has arisen, and Paul thought it honest to ask me whether you had even mentioned this to me. I said no. Only don't mention it to Nikolacha before you have taken information, as he can spoil all by his excited way, and tell the man straight out or disbelieve all. But I think it would only be right, though the man may seem perfectly charming and honest, to have him watched. Whilst you are there the yellow man and others can use eyes and ears and watch his telegrams and the people he sees, etc. One pretends as though he often receives big sums. I only tell you all this, knowing nothing whether there is any foundation in it, only better to warn you. Many dislike the headquarters and have an uncomfortable feeling there, and as, alas, we have had spies and also innocent people accused by Nikolasha, now you can find out carefully, please.

Small Talk of Royalties.

"Mary Vasiltchikov and family live in the green corner house and from her window she watches like a cat all the people that go in and out of our house and makes her remarks. She drove Isa wild asking why the children one day went out of one gate on foot and next time on bicycles, why an officer comes with a portfolio in the morning in one uniform and differently dressed in the evening; told Countess Fredericks that she saw Gregory driving in (odious). So to punish her we went to Ania this evening by a roundabout way, so she did not see us pass out. He was with us from 10 to 11:30 in her house. I send you a stick (fish hold a bird), which was sent to him from the new Athos to give to you. He used it first and now sends it to you as a blessing. If you can sometimes use it, would be nice, and to have it in your compartment near the one Mr. Phillips touched is nice, too. He spoke much and beautifully—and what a Russian Emperor is, though other sovereigns are anointed and crowned, only the Russian one is a real anointed one since 300 years. Says you will save your reign by not calling out the second reserves you spoke about it, because the ministers agreed, but had you not begun they did not intend speaking.

"Finds you ought to order fabrics (factories) to make shells, simply you to give the order, even shoose which fabric if they show you the list of them, instead of giving the order through commissions which talk for weeks and never can make up their minds.

"Be more autocratic, my very own sweetheart; show your mind.

"The last Dolgorouky, Alexei, died in London.

"Very fine again, am writing on the balcony we have lunched, then I must receive some officers and hereafter go to Mavra. We photographed at the hospital in the garden and sat on the balcony after we had finished everything.

"Do you long for news. Wonder how long you will remain away.

"Ania has gone for the first time to town by motor to her Parents, as her mother is ill, and then to our Friend.

"Now good-by, my very own, longed-for treasure, my Sweetheart. I kiss you ever so fondly and pray God to bless, protect and guide you. Your own old. WIFY."

"Have you the patience to read such long letters?"

("Little Georgi" is Grand Duke George Constantinovitch, a year older than the Czarevitch Alexei. Georgi's family lived in Pavlovsk, a town in the neighborhood of Tzarskoye Selo. Paleologue was French Ambassador to Russia. Paul, with whom he dined, was Grand Duke Paul Alexandrovitch, uncle of the Czar. Stcheglovitov was Minister of Justice. There is no record of Matokhin. Gen. Danilov, suspected of being a spy, may be Vladimir N. Danilov, General of infantry and aide-de-camp to the Emperor. Marie Vasiltchikov is the woman who later played such a notorious part in attempting to initiate Russo-German separate peace negotiations.

Rasputin and the Ministers.

"June 15th, 1915.

"My own beloved One:

"Before going to sleep I began my letter to you. Thanks for your wire, I received during dinner. We dined in, as there were only 9 degrees. I had just had my head washed. I am sorry fat Orlov no more sends me telegrams, I suppose there is nothing particular to tell. When you are not there, one gets no direct news and feels lost. I am eagerly awaiting your promised letter.

"Town is so full of gossip, as tho' all the ministers were being changed—Krivoshein first minister, Matokhin instead of Stcheglovitov, Gutsbkov as aid to Polivanov, and so on, and our Friend to whom Ania went to bid good-by, was more anxious to know what was true. As though also Samarin instead of Sabler, whom it is better not to change before one has a very good one to replace him, certainly Samarin would go against our Friend and stick up for the Bishops we dislike he is so terribly Moscovite and narrow minded. Well, Ania answered that I knew nothing. He gave over the message for you, that you are to pay less attention to what people will say to you, not let yourself be influenced by them, but use your own instinct and go by that, to be more sure of yourself and not listen too much nor give in to others who know less than you. The times are so serious and grave that all your own personal wisdom is needed and your soul must guide you. He regrets you did not speak to him more about all you think and were intending to do and speak about with your ministers and the changes you were thinking of making. He prays so hard for you and Russia and can help more when you speak to him frankly. I suffer hideously being away from you. Twenty years we shared all together, and now grave things are passing. I do not know your thoughts nor decisions and it's such pain. God help and guide you aright, my own sweet darling. I, too, am much quieter when you are here. I dread their profiting of your kind heart and making you do things which when calmly thought over here you would perhaps do otherwise.

"All my prayers and tenderest thoughts surround you in deepest love and compassion. Oh, how I long to help you and give you faith in yourself. How long do you remain still? Sleep well and peacefully, holy angels guard your slumber.

"June 16. Just received your precious letter, for which heartfelt thanks. Glad you were contented with the work and sitting. Yes, Lovy, about Samarin I am much more than sad, simply in despair. Just on of Ella's not good, very bigoted clique, bosom friend of Sofia I. Tiutchev, that Bishop Trofim, I have strong reason to dislike, as he always spoke and now speaks in the army against our Friend. Now we shall have storys against our Friend beginning and all will go badly. I hope heart and soul he won't accept, that means Ella's influence and worries from morning to night, and he against us, once against Gregory, and so awfully narrow minded, a real Moscow type, head without soul. My heart feels like lead, 1000 times better Sabler a few months still than Samarine. Have the cross procession now, don't go putting it off, Lovy, listen to me, it's serious, have it quicker done, now is lent, therefore more appropriate, choose, Peter and Paul, say, but now soon. Oh, why are we not together to speak over all together and to help prevent things which I know ought not to be. It's not my brain which is clever, but I listen to my soul and I wish you would, too, my own sweetest One.

"I don't want to croak, but I only say all straight out to you. Good-by, my own and all. God bless and help you. I kiss you without end. Ever your own sad WIFY."

(A. V. Krivoshein, reported candidate for the premiership, was Minister of Agriculture. Gutchkov, who was to be the assistant of Gen. Polivanov, the new Minister of War, is the noted member of the Duma, Alexander I. Gutchkov. V. K. Sabler was the overprocurator of the holy synod. A. D. Samarin, slated as his successor and bitterly opposed by the Czarina and Rasputin, was from Moscow. He belonged to the group which fought Rasputin's influence in court. The Czarina's sister Ella supported this group. Mlle. Sophie Ivanevna Tiutchev, Bishop Trofim, Gen. Dzhunkovsky, all from Moscow, belonged to this group. The day of St. Peter and St. Paul, which the Czarina suggested for the cross processions proposed by Rasputin as a means of securing success for the Russian arms, falls on July 12, according to the Greek calendar.)

"June 17. It is very hot and heavy air, but a colossal wind on the balcony, probably a thunderstorm in the air and that makes it difficult to breathe. I brought out roses, lilies of the valley and sweet peas to enjoy their perfume. I embroider all day for our exhibition bazar. Ah, my boy, my boy, how I wish we were together—one is so tired at times, so weary from pain and anxiety—nigh upon 11 months—but then it was only the war, and now the interior questions which absorb one and the bad luck at the war, but God will help, when all seems blackest I am sure better, sunnier days will come.

"May the Ministers only seriously work together to fulfill your wishes and orders and not their own—harmony under your guidance. Think more of Gregory, sweetheart. Before every difficult moment ask him to intercede before God to guide you aright."

Peter Rabbit Blesses Old Mr. Chuck

We never know, we must confess,
Who some day, we'll have cause to bless.

"AS sure as you're alive new, Peter Rabbit, some day I will catch you," snarled Reddy Fox as he poked his black nose into the hole between the roots of the Big Hickory Tree which grows close to the Smiling Pool. "It's lucky for you that you were not one jump farther away from his hole."

Peter Rabbit, safe inside that hole, didn't have a word to say, or, if he did, he didn't have breath enough to say it. It was quite true if he had been one jump farther from that hole Reddy Fox would have caught him. As it was, the hairs of Peter's funny short white tail had actually tickled Reddy's black nose as Peter frantically plunged through the rootbound entrance to that hole.

It was the narrowest escape Peter had had for a long, long time. You see he had been so busy nibbling sweet clover on the bank of the Smiling Pool, and enjoying it so much, that he had forgotten to watch out. So Reddy Fox had been able to creep almost up to him before Peter even suspected that Reddy was anywhere about. It had been a dreadful surprise. And it was lucky, very lucky for Peter that that hole, dug long, long ago by Johnny Chuck's father, was right where it was. Also it was a lucky thing that old Mr. Chuck had had the good sense to make the entrance between the roots of that tree in such a way that it could not be dug any larger.

Reddy Fox was too shrewd to waste any time trying to dig it larger. He knew that he couldn't possibly squeeze in between those roots and that Peter was perfectly safe. So, after trying to make Peter as uncomfortable as possible and to scare him by telling him what was bound to happen to him some day, Reddy trotted off across the Green Meadows.

But Peter didn't mind Reddy's dreadful threats in the least. He was used to them. He couldn't remember a time when Reddy Fox hadn't been watching for a chance to catch him, and he had heard those dreadful threats so often that now they simply went in one long ear and out the other. In fact, now that he was safe, he rather enjoyed the excitement.

"Grandfather Chuck certainly has my blessing," muttered Peter, talking to himself, because there was no one else to talk to. "He certainly has. I owe him my life this time. I always did think a lot of the Chuck family, but never so much as right now. It is queer how often people are of help to others and never know anything about it. I'll have to run over and tell Johnny Chuck that his grandfather has my blessing."

Peter remained where he was until he was absolutely sure that it was safe to come out. Then he hurried, lipperty-lipperty-lip, up to the Old Orchard. He knew he would feel quite safe there because there were plenty of hiding places in the old stone wall along the edge of it. Besides, he wanted to see if any of his friends had arrived from the far-away Sunny South.

"Tut, tut, tut, tut!" exclaimed Jenny Wren. "If there isn't Peter Rabbit himself."

When Peter reached the Old Orchard the very first person he saw was Jenny Wren. She had arrived that morning. "Tut, tut, tut, tut, tut," exclaimed Jenny Wren. "If her isn't Peter Rabbit himself! How did you ever manage to keep out of the clutches of Reddy Fox all the long winter?"

Peter chuckled. "I didn't have much trouble with Reddy during the winter," said he, "but this very morning he so nearly caught me that it is a wonder my coat isn't as white as my tail from fright."

Then Peter told Jenny Wren all about his narrow escape, and how he blessed Grandfather Chuck for digging that hole just where he did in the way he did.

MORE TRUTH THAN POETRY

By James J. Montague.

BEWARE OF A CHEST.

The great Alexander regarded the earth
  As wholly belonging to him;
He thought he controlled all the oceans that rolled
  Clear out to its uttermost rim.
"The Heavens will crash when I go to my grave,"
  The conqueror often would say;
And the world stood aghast when he perished at last;
  But up came the sun the next day.

The Emperor Nero was swollen with pride,
  In the power conferred by his crown,
His subjects went wild with delight when he smiled,
  And fell in a faint at his frown.
He fancied that when he departed this life,
  His exit would shatter the map;
But when he was gone, the planet rolled on,
  Without ever missing a lap.

The haughty hotel clerk, the pompous old judge,
  The ponderous head of a bank,
The man whose success makes him prone to impress
  The world with his station and rank,
Believe their departure would leave us all flat,
  But when they are under the ground,
Awaiting the call that will wake us all,
  The earth keeps on whirling around.

And therefore, young man, with the outswelling chest,
  No matter what heights you have scaled,
Quite in spite of your chest, you will pass, like the rest,
  Unnoticed, unwept and unwailed.
If all of the persons we've mentioned could go,
  And not put the world on the blink,
You can surely deduce that you're not so much use,
  In the game we call life as you think.

No Place for It.

The trial of Rollin Bunch, Mayor, and Horace Murphy, Prosecuting Attorney, of Muncie, was on in the United States District Court at Indianapolis, and every day Muncie persons and others who were acquainted with the remarkable case came too late to obtain seats in the courtroom. A Muncie young woman one day rushed impulsively up to a man acquaintance whose business took him inside the courtroom, and finding all the seats were taken, she exclaimed:

"Oh, cant you squeeze me in there?"

"No," he responded gravely, "not in there."—Indianapolis News.

"What do you mean by going around telling people that I am swell-headed and stuck up?" asked the Big Man.

"I didn't say anything of the kind," replied the Little Man. "I merely remarked that you were orgulous to an extreme degree."

"Oh, well, that's different," said the Big Man.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Similar Symptoms.

"The revival has been going on for a week down our way," said a pious resident of the Fiddle Creek neighborhood. "Aw, lemme tell you, Gap, you don't know what it is to have a powerful evangelist in your midst."

"No, but I can sorter guess at it," replied Gap Johnson of Gumpus Ridge, Ark. "I swallowed a tollable big dose of horse liniment t'other night by mistake for a little something refreshing that I had hid in the subbard."—Judge.

INVESTMENTS

¶ In the present period of the adjustment of the country's industrial and commercial affairs, it is well for investors to exercise the utmost caution in the selection of investments.

¶ Investors should scan these securities very carefully. Where there is the least doubt, caution will dictate looking a little farther for an investment where safety and peace of mind are absolutely assured. Preferring to sacrifice a part of his income to a greater degree of safety, the conservative investor prospers to a larger extent in the end than the investor whose first thought is income, the quality of the security being a minor consideration.
